Dog Warden Is Now Catching Unmuzzled Dogs

Kingston Now Has a Dog Warden and He Inaugurated His Campaign Rounding Up Unlicensed and Unmuzzled Dogs on Tuesday Afternoon—Hired by Health Board.

Frank Miller of Rensselaer, who has been appointed dog warden of this city by the board of health, assumed his duties on Tuesday afternoon when he caught several unmuzzled dogs and placed them in a pound that had been prepared by the city authorities.

Mr. Miller is an experienced man and is working with modern equipment, according to health board officials. He has an assistant with him. He was employed by the board on the recommendation of the state department of agriculture.

Mr. Miller arrived in Kingston with his equipment Tuesday afternoon and reported to the board of health, and immediately started operations catching unmuzzled dogs found roaming the streets.

Under the provisions of the state law the dogs caught will be kept in the city pound for a period of three days and if not redeemed at that time will be killed. Owners to redeem their dogs are required to call at police headquarters on East O'Reilly street, pay the fees and obtain a written order on the pound master.

Some time ago the board of health employed two local men as dog catchers, but they gave up the job after trying it out for a few weeks.

Owing to the prevalence of rabies in the state the health board took the matter up with the state department of agriculture and asked that it recommend some man for the position of dog warden.

Only dogs that have a license tag and are muzzled will be safe on the city streets in the future.

Man Bitten, but Never Came Back

Unknown Man in Town of Ulster Was Bitten by Dog Which Had Rabies—Sought Treatment But Did Not Follow Instructions.

Some man in the town of Ulster was bitten several months ago by a dog which was found later to be suffering from rabies, but his failure to follow the instructions given to him by Dr. Henry Van Hoevenberg, town health officer, has resulted in his receiving no treatment, so far as Dr. Van Hoevenberg and other officials know.

The man, who did not give his name, sought Dr. Van Hoevenberg and explained that he had been bitten by a dog and he wanted treatment. The dog had been shot by a State Trooper, he said, who put a bullet through the dog's head.

The visit was made at the time when rabies had been discovered among several dogs in this city and the only available supply of serum for treatment of a person bitten by a dog was in the possession of the late Dr. Daniel Connelly of this city, who was city health officer and who had secured a supply promptly.

Dr. Van Hoevenberg directed the man, who said he lived in the town of Ulster, to go to Dr. Connelly's office at once and he would follow within a few minutes, as soon as he finished with an important matter which he was doing. A few minutes later Dr. Van Hoevenberg drove his car to Dr. Connelly's office and learned that the stranger had not been there. The two doctors waited for some time but the man did not appear. Up to the time of Dr. Connelly's death the stranger had not put in an appearance there and he never returned to Dr. Van Hoevenberg.

The head of the dog which had bitten the stranger was secured by State Troopers and sent to Albany for examination. It was several weeks before a report was received, but when it did come it showed that the dog was afflicted with rabies.

AUDITORIUM THEATRE CLOSES ITS DOORS

The Auditorium Theatre in the Y. M. C. A. closed its doors on Saturday evening when the last performance was given under the management of John McLean. The theatre had been leased for several years by Harry Lazarus, whose lease expired the first of May. For the last few weeks the theatre has been under the McLean management. Just what the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. will do with the Auditorium is not known.

BALLOTING FOR BISHOP IN METHODIST CONFERENCE

Kansas City, May 23 (AP).—Balloting in the election of three bishops of the Methodist Church began today at the quadrennial general conference here.

Dr. J. R. Wade of Chicago, secretary of the conference, led on the first ballot, which did not produce the necessary two thirds majority, however. Wade received 381 votes. Five hundred and forty-six votes were necessary for election.

Dogs in Town of Ulster Must Be Properly Muzzled

State Health Commissioner Declares Rabies Exist in the Town and Muzzling Order Is Promptly Issued by Town Health Officer—Muzzling Must Continue Indefinitely.

State Health Commissioner Matthias Nicoll has issued a certificate that rabies exist in the town of Ulster, and on Tuesday Dr. Henry Van Hoevenberg of this city, health officer of the town, issued a notice to all owners of dogs in that town that such dogs must not be allowed at large unless they are properly muzzled.

The action of the officials is considered wise in view of the death at Glasco on Sunday of nine-year-old Frederick Beckert of that place, whose death was due to hydrophobia which resulted from the bite of a pet dog about six weeks ago. The town of Ulster adjoins both the town of Saugerties, where the Beckert boy lived, and the city of Kingston, where dogs are still required to be muzzled because of rabies which developed several months ago. Dr. Nicoll's notice is dated May 16.

The dog which bit the Beckert boy died the following day. The fact that he had rabies was not suspected and consequently no report of the matter was made to Dr. John C. Kamp, the town of Saugerties health officer. The boy developed hydrophobia on Wednesday of last week and although everything possible was done for him, his death from the dreaded disease followed on Sunday.

Three dogs suspected of having rabies have been killed along the Kingston-Saugerties road, and in one case an examination of the dog's head showed the presence of rabies. Nobody knows how many dogs have been bitten by dogs having rabies, but the fact that death of a human being from hydrophobia had occurred at Glasco led to prompt official action by Dr. Van Hoevenberg.

Provisions of Muzzling Order.

The notice issued by Dr. Van Hoevenberg is similar to that which was issued in this city after rabies had been discovered among dogs here. It provides that it shall be unlawful for any person owning, boarding or otherwise keeping or having in his custody a dog, to permit such dog to be at large unless muzzled with a properly fitting muzzle of a type which will not permit such dog to bite any person or other animal.

It is the duty, according to the notice, of every officer having authority to enforce state laws or local ordinances to cause any dog found at large and not so muzzled, to be immediately confined, or, if it is impracticable to secure and confine such dog, to be killed. Any person may kill a dog not muzzled which is known to have attacked any person or domestic animal and such person shall not be liable for damages for such killing. Any person so killing such a dog or causing it to be killed shall immediately report the facts to the health officer.

Order Continues Indefinitely.

The requirements set forth by the notice of the health officer will continue in effect until the state commissioner of health shall have certified that rabies no longer exist in the town of Ulster or its vicinity and until due notice shall have been given of such certification.

The town board of health has power to enact such regulations as may be necessary for proper enforcement of the public health law and sanitary code.

The town of Ulster contains many dogs. A large proportion of the farmers living in the town have watch dogs and in addition there are many dogs which are kept as pets. The muzzling order affects all dogs.

It is possible that rabies may be declared to exist in other towns of Ulster county and that the muzzling order may be extended to cover them.

ATTACHMENT ISSUED AGAINST BRICK COMPANY

A warrant of attachment granted by Judge Staley of Albany against property of the Bichler Brick Company of Saugerties has been filed in the Ulster county clerk's office.

The attachment is issued in an action brought against that company by the P. & M. Brick Manufacturing Company, Inc., to recover $232.50 for brick claimed to have been supplied to the defendant. Arthur B. Ewig of this city is attorney for the plaintiff.

Accepted "Lift," Faces 'Dry' Charge

Pittsburgh Electrical Worker, Seeking Work, Drove Car of Stranger, Lost Consciousness at Wheel and Smashed Auto Loaded With Alleged Liquor.

Accepting a "lift" from Pittsburgh to New York, which he says was offered to him by a stranger, landed Ralph Williams of Pittsburg, Penn., in the hospital at Newburgh Monday and before United States Commissioner Arthur C. Connelly in this city today on a charge of violating the federal prohibition law, while officials of the local prohibition office are in possession of a badly damaged Studebaker roadster and over 250 pint bottles of what is claimed to be rye whiskey of excellent quality.

Williams, who is a World War veteran, intended to seek work in New York and having but little money, he was glad to accept the offer of a stranger who was driving to New York city. The stranger's car bore Florida license plates, and was quite heavily loaded. During the war, in which he had been injured, Williams had learned to run an automobile, and on the trip he ran the car for the stranger.

At Clinton Square, Newburgh, Williams evidently lost consciousness and although the car was proceeding at slow speed, it was traveling fast enough to become badly damaged when it ran head-on into an electric light pole. The stranger left the car quickly and disappeared before a crowd gathered. Henry Newman of Newburgh conveyed Williams to the hospital in an unconscious condition. Williams was identified by means of a membership card in the Theatrical Electrical Workers' Union. Besides his card, he had $5 in his clothing. When he regained consciousness, Williams told of his experience.

Federal agents of the local prohibition office brought Williams to Kingston to be arraigned during the day before United States Commissioner Connelly on a charge of violating the prohibition act.

Did Not Know He'd Go to Jail

Youth Says He Pleaded Guilty to Charge of Cruelty to Animals In Ignorance That Jail Sentence Might Follow—Appeals to County Court.

Harold Becker, who pleaded guilty in city court on May 17 to a charge of cruelty to animals, in beating a horse, and was sentenced by Judge Shufeldt to pay a fine of $25 and be imprisoned in the Ulster county jail for 30 days, has taken an appeal to the Ulster county court on the ground that the sentence was excessive, and the appeal has been allowed by Judge Fowler.

In his affidavit, which forms the basis of his appeal, Becker states that he was 18 years old on September 11, 1927, that he never before had been arrested or charged with any crime, and was unacquainted with proceedings in police courts. He understood, he says, that the offense with which he was charged was one that simply incurred a fine and he did not know that it might carry a jail sentence, and because of his ignorance as to the consequences that might follow a plea of guilty, he did not dispute the charge and did not think it necessary to give evidence going to the merits of the charge by way of defense.

Becker resides at Hunter, Greene county, and he says in his affidavit that he did not have an opportunity to communicate with his parents, relatives or friends at Hunter. He has been in jail since May 16, when he was arrested, and appeals to the county court on the ground that the sentence imposed was excessive.

The horse, says Becker, belonged to one Dolan, it was a saddle horse and was known as and was in fact a bucker, and had injured him on a previous occasion. He says that he inflicted no more punishment than in his opinion he believes from his experience with that horse and with other animals was necessary under the circumstances.

Judge Fowler also has approved the undertaking on appeal in the sum of $100 with Charles Becker of Hunter as surety.

Frank W. Brooks is Becker's attorney. On the hearing in police court, Amos Van Etten appeared for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, which pressed the complaint.

AIRPLANE FLOATED TO EARTH BY A PARACHUTE

Tracy, Cal., May 23 (AP).—An airplane was brought to earth with a huge parachute from a height of more than 2,000 feet here yesterday with only slight damage to the craft.

Stopping the engine at an altitude of 2,200 feet, Pilot E. J. McKeon released a small parachute, which, after a brief delay, unfolded the large parachute, a double affair with a 72 foot silk canopy. Failure of the smaller parachute to function quickly nearly spoiled the experiment, and McKeon was about to leap with his own parachute when the little chute took hold, and the 72-foot umbrella gradually opened.

The plane, however, began spinning, and McKeon was again preparing to leap when the ropes untangled and the parachute lowered the airplane gently to earth. McKeon said a device to prevent spinning of the airplane would be arranged before another experiment. The parachute, however, dragged the plane a short distance, causing slight damage to the wings and tail.

Hospital Drive Organization in County Districts

Chairman Elting Announces Completion of Benedictine Campaign Organization Outside Kingston—All Workers Will Meet In State Armory Friday Night.

Supplementing a Kingston city organization of more than 600 workers which has been established to carry forward the appeal in behalf of the Benedictine Hospital, Philip Elting, General Chairman of the campaign organization today announced completion of the County organization outside of Kingston.

More than 70 prominent Ulster county residents representing 31 cities and towns throughout the county comprise the executive group of the organization which it was expected will total in the neighborhood of 400 workers.

The county campaign organization was developed by Mr. Elting, who, during the past few weeks, has spent much time visiting the various cities and towns involved. In each community men who are to lead the campaign in behalf of Benedictine were appointed to form their own community committees. According to Mr. Elting this work has been completed by the community leaders and in many instances several meetings have been held and the work outlined for the campaign.

In the county as well as in Kingston the campaign will open on Monday, May 28, and will continue until June 4.

The county executives and their workers have been invited to the opening meeting of the Benedictine Hospital Campaign to be held at the armory next Friday night, Mr. Elting announced. It is expected the county districts will have a large representation.

"The spontaneity of Ulster county's response for the Benedictine appeal has equaled that of the citizens of Kingston," Mr. Elting said, "and from sentiment I have found throughout the county it is evident the work will go forward with equal vigor. It has been a matter of gratification to me to learn the extent to which Benedictine Hospital's services have reached throughout the county. This doubtless is responsible for the hospital's popularity in the outlying districts and the resulting favor with which the appeal is meeting."

At Saugerties a meeting was held in the community house for the purpose of forming an organization to carry on the work in that city. The session was well attended and a complete local organization was formed with the following officers: Martin Cantine, chairman; Fred S. Van Voorhis, assistant chairman; William F. Keenan, secretary; C. W. Hatch, treasurer, and J. W. Frankel, publicity.

The following were selected as captains and lieutenants: District No. 1: Richard F. Oberbagh, captain, Mrs. S. A. Thornton, John D. Fratsher. District No. 2: George B. Memorial Day Music Troubles

Local Bands Donate Services, but Citizens' Band is Hired and Refuses to Allow "Unfair" Bands to Parade Unless at Head of Own Organizations.

Rumors of trouble on the score of "unfair" and "fair" music for the Memorial Day Celebration [illegible] for Kingston was brought up at the meeting of the firemen's committee in charge of the firemen's convention here in June at the session of Tuesday evening, but no discussion followed as it was ruled that it had no connection with the present difficulties of the firemen's parade in the city.

From what could be learned, however, the Mechanics' Band, the 4-Hose Band, the American Legion Drum Corps, and a local colored boys band have all donated their services for the Memorial Day parade, but the Citizens' Band, a union organization, refused to do so on the ground that it had always been paid for its Memorial Day services.

The Citizens' Band was engaged for Memorial Day by Kingston Council, No. 275, Knights of Columbus.

Since then the Citizens' Band has served notice, it is said, on the 4-Hose Band and the Mechanics' Band that they would not be allowed to take part in the Memorial day parade unless each band headed its own organization, the 4-Hose Band heading Excelsior Hose and the Mechanics' Band heading Charles DeWitt Council.

At the firemen's meeting Tuesday evening, William B. Martin, business manager of 4-Hose Band made the statement on the floor that the 4-Hose Band would parade on Memorial Day and it would not head Excelsior Hose Company.

Lodged in Jail On Dry Charges

Three Hudson Residents Are Unable To Furnish Bail And They Are Lodged In The County Jail.

Dolly Murray, Sesti Delake, and Anthony Colesize all of Hudson were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner A. C. Connelly Tuesday on a charge of possession of liquid refreshments in violation of the Volstead law. They were arrested some time ago by Federal Agents working out of the local office when a raid was made on several places in Hudson. All were held in temporary bail at Hudson until an adjourned date before Commissioner Connelly. On arraignment Tuesday all three were held in $500 bail for a further hearing before Mr. Connelly on June 13. Being unable to furnish the necessary bail they were lodged in the county jail.

Later in the day Joseph Zaresa, also of Hudson and charged with possession of liquors of high alcoholic content was arraigned before Mr. Connelly and a temporary bond in the sum of $500 was given for appearance on June 21. Similar action was taken in the case of Charles Cripps and the hearing adjourned until June 21. Adam Predpell furnished bail in the same sum for appearance on June 13 at 2 o'clock.

M..o Clement another Hudson defendant who was picked up by the Federal Agents on their visit to Hudson recently gave final bond in the sum of $500 for appearance when wanted in New York before the Federal grand jury.

LINDBERGH ACCEPTS A REGULAR POSITION

New York, May 23 (AP).—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh has decided to enter the commercial airplane field and has accepted a "full time job" as chairman of the technical committee of the recently formed Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc.

He is to assume his post at once and will take charge of putting into operation the rail and plane service between New York and the Pacific coast which the Pennsylvania railroad, the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, the Wright Aeronautical Corporation, and the Curtiss Airplane and Motor Corporation and the National Air Transport, Inc., cooperated in forming.

MILTON TRIO FINED FOR BEING DISORDERLY

Michael Pantetto, aged 17, Samuel Ruzzo, 19, and Patsy Ruzzo, 21, were found guilty by Judge Alexander Spears in the town of Ulster on Tuesday, for disorderly conduct. Patsy was fined $10, and the other two $5 each. The trio came from Milton and caused a disturbance on Saturday night at the weekly dance of the Eddyville Fire Department at Firemen's Hall, Eddyville. Sergeant Lockhart made the arrest. Besides being fined, and paying the penalty they were given a severe reprimand.

"You're A Liar" Said Moran "You're Another" Said Martin

Business Manager of 4-Hose Band and Chairman of Firemen's Committee Engage in Verbal Combat From Which Both Emerge with Honors Even—Fire Chief Murphy Quells Raging Conflagration of Words—Music Raises Rumpus.

Words were profusely spilled Tuesday evening at the meeting of the general committee arranging for the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association convention here in June. There were mild words that became extreme; warm words that became warmer, hot words that became torrid; words the mildest of which was "lousy" and the most torrid, "you're a liar" were picked up and steaming, sizzling hot came from the mouths of the various speakers of the evening. Scientists claim that the average man uses a vocabulary of three hundred words. All three hundred were used so many times Tuesday night that they were dejected and exhausted when the meeting closed. The convention committee has been wrestling for a number of meetings with the problem of how best to spend the $8,000 given them by the taxpayers and to vex the committee still more the question of "fair" and "unfair" music has arisen to trouble their peace of mind, and it led to one of the most heated sessions in the history of the Central Fire Station.

Meeting Started With Bang.

The meeting Tuesday started with a bang. Secretary Jacob Port had just concluded reading the minutes of the previous meeting when L. E. Dunne, volunteer fireman and secretary of the local civil service board, leaped to his feet and demanded that the secretary resign as he had never gotten the minutes straight. "If he can't get them straight," said Mr. Dunne, "he should have the fairness to resign and let some one else handle the job"—only "fairness" wasn't the word Mr. Dunne use.

Ray Whitbeck was on his feet as Dunne sat down and said he did not believe in the secretary being publicly reprimanded. "We all make mistakes" said Whitbeck, "and the minutes have just been read for correction."

The incorrectness of the minutes, according to Dunne, was the reading of the music committee's report on awarding the contract for the convention band to the band of the Excelsior Hose Company. The band had been engaged, but the music committee had decided to make a donation to Excelsior Hose of $325.

Supt. Hale Speaks.

On motion of A. J. Murphy, Sr., the floor was extended to Superintendent Robert Hale of the Firemen's Home at Hudson. Mr. Hale explained that there were 106 members at the Home at the present time and that at least fifty of them would be in Kingston as the guests of the local committee. The firemen would be brought to Kingston on the day of the parade in auto busses and he suggested that they be entertained at a dinner before the parade and then given seats in the reviewing stand. It was announced that the Auxiliary of the American Legion was prepared to serve a chicken dinner the day of the parade to seventy firemen at $1.25 per plate. It is likely that the firemen from the Home will eat at the Legion Home.

Committees Report Progress.

Fire Chief Murphy of the parade committee reported he had drafted tentative plans but they had not been adopted as yet by the parade committee. Other committees reported progress. The badge committee was authorized to have 1,000 badges for the convention struck off.

Mr. Van Buren sought permission to take movies of the big parade and was granted permission.

Buttermilk for Firemen.

The Crowley Milk Company of Newburgh wrote offering to supply buttermilk free of charge at the various engine houses the day of the parade. The offer was accepted and and on roll call the various companies announced how many cans they could use. It totalled twenty cans and the secretary was instructed to notify the Crowley concern of that fact.

The Music Question.

Secretary Port then read two letters he had received from John A. Cole, secretary of the Local Musicians' Union. The first letter read as follows:

"We read with regret of your meeting of May 17 and were both surprised and disappointed at the apparent lack of good faith and fair dealing shown by the action taken at that time. At a special meeting of our local held for the purpose of taking necessary action to conform with instructions received from our International President, Mr. Weber, in reply to our joint letter composed on the night of your meeting, I was instructed to inform you as to conditions under which union music would be permitted to participate in the parade. There can be no unfair bands in line. We will furnish two union bands at the union scale to take the place of the J. O. U. A. M. and Ferraro's Bands. We have opened our charter at reduced initiation fee to give those bands in question a chance to join the local. The charter will be held open until [illegible] jection to them will be removed." Mr. Cole closed with saying that if there were any unfair bands there will be no member of the American Federation of Music in the parade.

The second letter was dated May 18, and stated that Mr. Cole was instructed to write the committee protesting the action in awarding the convention band engagement to the Excelsior Hose Company band in view of the fact that it is already unfair, and also considering the negotiations we had underway for an adjustment of our other differences and we ask you to reconsider your decision in the matter. We will appoint a committee to meet with your committee on the matter at the next meeting.

Ulrich Fired Bomb.

The first bomb in the heated discussion that developed was fired by a mild looking young man in a white sweater who said he was Ulrich and a member of Weiner Hose. He jumped to his feet stating that he wanted the committee to reconsider its vote of the last meeting in awarding the convention music to Excelsior Hose band.

No Record Taken of Vote.

William B. Martin, business manager of the 4-Hose Band, asked if any record had been taken of the vote at the previous meeting. He was informed that only a "yes" and "no" vote had been taken on the adoption of the music committee's report awarding the contract to 4-Hose Band. Mr. Martin said that speaking in a legal sense the committee had no right to consider the vote taken at the last meeting as there was no record to show how Ulrich had voted or anyone else.

Mr. Martin made an impassioned plea and closed with urging the committee "For God's sake don't do anything rash. Don't hire two bands."

Michael Graney quoted Mr. Martin as saying that the committee did not want trouble, but we will have it.

At this point delegates from all over the room were leaping to their feet demanding the floor.

How to Make "Unfair" "Fair".

Martin Schleede of Cordts Hose Company was recognized by the chair and said that there could be no question raised as to the American Mechanics' Band which Cordts Hose had engaged for the parade as the secretary of the hose company had been instructed to notify the secretary of the committee to erase the Mechanics' Band from the list.

"We are going to parade with our own band," announced Mr. Schleede.

The announcement caused a sensation as the delegates present were of the impression that there was but one fireman's band in the city, that of 4-Hose.

"What band?" asked a delegate addressing Mr. Schleede.

"Our own band, made up of our own members," explained Schleede.

"We don't want any more trouble," said L. E. Dunne as he obtained the floor, and turning to Schleede he asked "Will the names of the members of the band be filed with the board of fire commissioners as is done in the case of all new members added to a fire company?"

"That won't be necessary", said Schleede "for the members of our band have been made honorary members of the company."

Mr. Schleede's explanation caused a laugh for the delegates realized as he sat down that the members of the Mechanics' Band had all been made honorary members of Cordts Hose Company.

Murphy's Suggestion.

A. J. Murphy, Sr., suggested that Excelsior Hose give the $325 they were to receive for the convention music to the [illegible]. "It is up to Mr. Martin," said Murphy, "if he's got the manhood, as I think he has, he should smooth things over."

Mr. Murphy said that the taxpayers of the city were interested. They had financed the convention to the tune of $8,000 and should be shown some consideration. If 4-Hose Band played at the convention hall it meant that there would be no parade as the musicians' union would withdraw all union bands from the line of march.

Martin's Position.

Mr. Martin said that the music committee by a vote of 3 to 1 had voted to give the convention music to 4-Hose Band.

Edward Moran, chairman of the committee, wanted some one to take over the chair and preside as he wanted to speak on the subject. No one seemed willing to do so and finally Mr. Moran was given the privilege of speaking from the chair.

Mr. Moran said that Mr. Martin had been unfair. That he had had influence brought to have the 4-Hose Band given the job.

Mr. Martin denied it and said that what he had done had been straight and aboveboard. He said that a member of the music committee had

Archeological Find

Containing two skeletons, a stone coffin estimated at between three thousand and four thousand years old, has been found near Rainham, Essex, England. Portions of skulls and a horn drinking vessel were also in the coffin, which was hewn from a solid slab. The discovery was made in a locality where pottery declared by scientists to date from 2000 B. C. had previously been found.

Sunday Clothes

Martha's mother and father were discussing an article in one of the current magazines on "Why I Attend Church." Daddy was skeptical of church creeds. Mother, strong in faith, insisted it was a duty to attend church. Martha looked intently from one to the other and finally said: "Daddy, we have to go to church or the folks will think we have no Sunday clothes."

FRENCH GIRL ASPIRES TO DIPLOMATIC JOB.

Paris, May 23 (AP).—French suffragists are almost as excited over the admission of women to posts in the central administration of the diplomatic service as English women are over "flapper votes".

Mlle. Luce Camuzet, a graduate student at the Sorbonne, presented herself with a score of young men candidates recently, to make formal application for permission to take the annual examination of candidates for posts in the diplomatic service. Her application was accepted. She is France's first woman aspirant to a diplomatic career.

If Miss Camuzet passes her examination she cannot hope, until the laws of France are changed, to be appointed to a diplomatic post abroad. The French foreign office explains that women cannot hold such positions because consuls, ministers and ambassadors are obliged to act as notaries, perform marriage ceremonies, take depositions and act as judges in certain circumstances, all functions forbidden women.

At present no government has an official woman representative in France although there are several women working on special diplomatic assignments. One of them is Madame Marguerite de Rez, special secretary at the Hungarian legation. She has devoted her life to diplomatic work although she has no official status.

FEDERAL SPECIALIST KEEPS TAB ON FOODS.

Washington, May 23 (AP).—A unique type of specialist with the whole United States as her field, is Miss Miriam Birdseye of the cooperative extension service in the United States department of agriculture.

Acting as a clearing house agent for the work of nutrition specialists, she gathers and disseminates all the knowledge on that subject. She is the only woman inter-bureau subject matter specialist.

Since foods and nutrition constitute a basic project in the extension program, most of the state agricultural colleges have on their staffs one or more nutrition specialists, who work with the county home demonstration and agricultural agents in planning and carrying out the nutrition programs. Research in foods and nutrition is also being carried on in experiment stations and in the bureau of home economics of the department. Miss Birdseye coordinates the work of the various state specialists and acquaints them with ideas developed in different sections of the country which relate to their work.

She divides her time between Washington and the field, giving a number of demonstrations each year.

Miss Birdseye is a graduate of Smith College with an advanced degree from Columbia University Teachers College.

SHANDAKEN.

Shandaken, May 23.—Aleck Evans, a brother of the late John R. Evans, formerly of this place, died suddenly at the home of David Griffin on Sunday night. A brother, Walter Evans, resides at Albany, N. Y. The funeral service will be announced later.

Russell Miller, employed at Lake Mohonk, was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Miller, over the week end.

Mrs. D. Jocelyn, who has been spending the winter in the city, has returned to her home in this place. Mrs. Mary Abbott, who has been a guest in this place for several seasons, will spend a few weeks with Mrs. Jocelyn.

Fred Ford and family of Pine Hill were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Rider on Sunday.

The prayer service at the home of Theron Townsend last Wednesday evening was well attended as are all the midweek services.

J. S. Ford, W. S. Hommell, Charles G. Stiles and Leonard Ford attended the lodge at Margaretville last Wednesday night.

A number of the members of the Rip Van Winkle Club were in town over the week end and were guests of Max Brickman at the Mountain Lodge Inn.

Edward C. Rowe is building a new house.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hoe, who have been spending the winter in California, have returned to their summer home here.

Every day should be Father's and Mother's Day in America.

For the strength of America is in its men and women who have sacrificed and economized to give their children every chance for happiness.

America's amazing development has been brought about by the unceasing, uncomplaining effort of each generation to give its children better education and better homes.

Each of the ever-increasing number of successful homes is a monument to the unselfish labor of America's fathers and mothers.

Stomach Disorders First Revealed by Coated Tongue

Your tongue is nothing more than the upper end of your stomach and intestines. It is the first thing your doctor looks at. It tells at a glance the condition of your digestive system—and physicians say that 90% of all sickness starts with stomach and bowel trouble.

A coated tongue is a danger signal of those digestive disorders which lead to so many kinds of serious illness. It tells why the least exertion tires you out; why you have pains in the bowels, gas, sour stomach, dizzy spells.

Coating on the tongue is a sign that you need Tanlac—the medicine which has helped thousands who were physical wrecks from stomach and bowel troubles—who had "tried everything" in vain and about given up hope.

Tanlac contains no mineral drugs; it is made of barks, herbs and roots. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

IMPEDIMENTA.

Nancy Ann Miller of Seattle that was, now Maharanee of Indore, is at Paris again with her dusky lord and master, having arrived with 205 trunks and a retinue of nine persons. Americans who have traveled in Europe will say unhesitatingly that nine servants are none too many to take care of 205 trunks, not to mention rendering any other service.

That situation, though, grows terribly on an ordinary, humble American. Who would want to go touring with 205 trunks and nine flunkies? Count 'em and vision 'em as you're going to sleep, if you dare run the risk of nightmare. Well did the ancient Romans use the word "impedimenta"—impediments—for baggage.

Grandeur comes at a heavy price. Poor Nancy Ann may soon think wistfully of the days when she traveled carefree with one suit case.

FISHING BY RADIO.

The Canadian Department of Marine and Fisheries, which broadcasts weather conditions for fishermen, announced recently that it intends soon "to broadcast also time signals, bait and ice conditions."

This service is intended primarily for commercial fishermen, but it might be adapted also to fishing as a sport. Some enterprising sporting equipment house might put on the market a tiny radio receiver that could be carried in the fisherman's tackle box. When ready for operations, he could then set it up, connect with a flashlight battery, using a metal fishing rod for an aerial, and get from headquarters the latest dope on how and where the fish were biting, and what bait they preferred. The time signals, though, would be of little use. What does the amateur fisherman care about time?

Ramsay MacDonald, the former Prime Minister of Great Britain who handles his English so much more masterfully than might be expected of a labor leader, writes frankly but not hopelessly on the subject of the outlawry of war in part as follows: "What can be said against the proposition that if no nation would fight there would be no war? And how inevitable therefore seems the conclusion that the surest and most direct way to peace is to get nations to bind themselves not to fight! The logic is flawless, but the weakness lies in the foundation—lies in that 'if.' Behind that 'if' are masked all the troubles of Europe. Unfortunately for those who would like to live a quiet and an uncomplicated life, neither individual nor national conduct is determined by what one finds in textbooks on logic. What is called the 'human element' is something built up of impulses and motives other than those of absolute morality or reason. Conduct is something like cathedrals that require buttresses and the practical problem of peace is the problem of buttresses."

The Mexican government has stopped army recruiting, except for necessary replacements. The standing army, which has consisted of 53,000 men, is to be reduced to 40,000, and afterward cut further as rapidly as circumstances permit. Favorable circumstances would be mainly the absence of counter-revolutions. As matters stand, the government is spending one-third of its income on the army. President Calles thinks that is too much. He would rather use public funds for schools, roads and debt payments. This is another hopeful sign for Mexico, which will help to reassure Americans. Given a decade or two of peaceful development along the lines indicated by recent Mexican policy, Uncle Sam may have almost as good a neighbor on the south as on the north.

Thousands of young Americans are said to have notified Commander Byrd that they want to join and are eminently fitted to join his flying expedition to the South Pole. Doubtless all but a very few of them would wish they were safe back home long before they reached the goal. This is [illegible]

New Zealand's first trial of "daylight saving" from November to March—produced so much loud dissatisfaction that it is said to be likely that nature will be left alone there in future—which, as a rule, is both a safe and sane policy.

HOW TO LIVE.

I occasionally speak about the hard job the medical health officer has in obtaining sufficient money to take care of the community's health.

It would seem that it requires an epidemic of small-pox, typhoid or other infection, to stir up the citizens to their health needs. And yet by the expenditure of a little more money a community will not only increase the happiness of its citizens but will actually save money and increase their wealth.

In an industrial community it was shown that owing to ignorance or neglect of health precautions, the death rate was 25 per cent higher than the average death rate for the country at large.

One of the large insurance companies, the majority of whose policy holders were of the industrial class, began in 1911 to try to help these workers with their health problems.

They got out various timely and appropriate booklets on the care of the body from head to foot; little books on nursing, on the care of the baby, the importance of the prevention of small-pox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, and other infectious ailments, the care of the feet, the great importance of a well balanced diet, the great necessity for sleep and rest.

In other words it was really an attempt to show their policy holders how to live fully, which means not only freedom from illness, but the real happiness that accompanies good health.

And now after fifteen years what is the result?

Whereas in 1911 the death rate among these workers was 25 per cent above the average because of their lack of knowledge of how to take care of themselves and their families, the death rate at the end of 1925 was actually less than the average.

Just think of that for a minute. In the same community, and comparing the death results in 1911 and 1925 with that of other policy holders living amid better surroundings, they were able to reduce it to a point actually below the average instead of 25 per cent above it.

Can there be any question about the value of the work this insurance company is doing for its policy holders, and really for the world in general, when we think of these figures.

Books Are Necessities

We should not be, in this country, far away from the concept that books are necessities, to be allowed for with food, clothes and a roof in the primary budgeting of every family. There is nothing startling in that concept at all—unless it is startling to say the mind should be considered to have necessities and a place in life as well as the body.—Des Moines Register.

Ulster W. C. T. U. Annual Institute

Official report.

The 49th Annual Institute of the Ulster County W. C. T. U. was held in the Wallkill Reformed Church, Tuesday May 15, Mrs. J. Albert Palen presiding. The session opened with a devotional service conducted by Mrs. Martha H. Bell, Evangelistic director. "Oh Master Let Me Walk With Thee," was sung, scripture was read from Joshua and an earnest prayer was voiced by Mrs. Bell. Mrs. Bell gave some excellent thoughts about the work in which we are engaged, urging us to press on and go forward, not to weary in well doing.

Several short prayers were offered by delegates. This service closed with singing, "Lead On, Oh King Eternal."

Institute proper was called to order by the president, Mrs. Palen. She explained the reason for the change in our guest of honor. Mrs. Armour being unable to come to us because of illness, but that we were fortunate in having Miss Scott, a national lecturer in her place.

Dr. L. G. Leggett, pastor of the entertaining church, gave us a most cordial greeting, assuring us that the W. C. T. U. was most welcome.

Mrs. Iantha Cantine, president of the Ellenville Union, graciously responded, expressing the pleasure of all in being able to be present and hoped that much information would be gained by local unions to help them in their work.

Mrs. Elting, corresponding secretary, gave several warnings what to do and what not to do, in making out reports, in order to get correct news regarding our work.

Miss Scott was presented and gave words of greeting.

Miss Sloat, editor of the state W. C. T. U. paper, also greeted us.

Mr. Taylor, pastor of the Plattekill M. E. Church was, presented and expressed his interest in our work, that he would never lose interest in our work, and hoped that next November would find our workers right on the job.

Mrs. Carpenter, Director Scientific Temperance Instruction, presented the work of her department. She could not have the essays read nor the posters displayed as the Institute was held so late and the essays and posters had to be sent on to the State Department. These had been carefully prepared by the children of the county.

The March of Allegiance was sung and the directors, of the different departments were asked to take seats on the platform. As Mrs. Delia Covert was unable to be present. Miss Eleanor Brown of the Plattekill Union was appinted to report the institute proceedings to some of the nearby papers.

Mrs. Kate Covert, Department of Citizenship, spoke for her department. She said it was a most important fundamental department as it so vitally concerns the United States with its eighteenth and nineteenth amendments. We worked hard for the franchise and we should respond to that privilege very much more than we do but this is due in part to the fact that politics are in the condition they are today but we should get busy and help clean them up.

She made an appeal that we should be ready to do whatever we can this fall. Our president said "It is not too early to begin now." She also told us a little of the hearing at Albany on the enforcement code. Only three wets spoke and the room was crowded with drys. At that time Mrs. Colvin, State W. C. T. U. President, rose to speak and one of the gentlemen asked her "Have you seen the boys and girls carried out of the cafes in New York city and taken home drunk?" She said, "No have you?" He answered "Yes." She replied: "You are a law-maker, what are you going to do about it?" The man was silent.

Mrs. Edward Young spoke on behalf of women's club work. She said much tact was needed in dealing with women who do not have our background, so as not to antagonize them. She told us that the Home Bureau is really cooperating with the W. C. T. U. She also said that the Dairymen's League is helping, for they are sending trained workers into the worst sections of New York city to teach the mothers to give their children milk instead of beer and wine so that their children would not be so stupid in school. She urged us not to spend so much time in criticizing but keep in view the truly great things and keep united.

God has implanted in every heart an element of goodness and goodness will respond to goodness. When we send women up to take positions of trust and honor select the ones who will not lose their heads. Let us all join together and cooperate.

Mrs. Goodgion presented the subject of Patriotic Service and made a very strong plea that we should not forget our brave heroes.

Mrs. Martha H. Bell of Milton brought the importance of the peace department to our notice. She told us that war and intemperance are wedded. This department is much needed to boost public sentiment along the line of outlawing war. She mentioned the fact that we are sending school bags to the children of Mexico as a project of good will. If we teach the children of this nation to exercise peace and good will to children of other nations we will be more apt to have peace in the future. Mothers have a great responsibility in teaching the children peace in the home.

Mrs. Iantha Cantine seemed to feel that not as much good had been done in her department, Fair Work, as should be but still the department was an important one and was needed. The people were so reluctant to take literature and read it.

Our president said that she considered much good had been done, for the booth itself brought our work before the public and helped to create public sentiment. The booth was trimmed with posters made by the children.

Miss Christina Smith told us that the flowers that were distributed by the W. C. T. U. brought the message of the union to the people and helped to create good will toward our work.

Mrs. A. H. Coutant presented the subject of Red Letter Days after which Mrs. Stella Barnard offered the noontide prayer and read the thirteenth chapter of Corinthians.

Mrs. Carpenter of Plattekill spoke in behalf of the Scientific Temperance Instruction Department. She warned us that in many places the law requiring the teaching of the effects of alcohol and tobacco on the human system was being disregarded or taught very ineffectually and urged us to use every effort to see that law is enforced, especialy as there is a penalty attached which should make the law more easily enforced.

The Ulster County W. C. T. U. is helping along this line by providing a person to present that subject at the Teachers' Conference held at New Paltz last week, Mr. Gilliette, the district superintendent of schools, kindly cooperating.

After announcements were made by the president, the morning session adjourned.

The afternoon session opened by the congregation singing, "Everybody Sing" followed by devotional exercises conducted by Mrs. Mabel Greiner after which our county secretary, Mrs. Webster Hare of Wallkill, read the minutes of the morning session.

Mrs. Lais sang a beautiful solo and the audience showed its appreciation by encoring her.

The president of the Orange County W. C. T. U. was presented and welcomed and gave us greeting.

Mrs. Van Wagenen told us why her department, the Department of Literature, should be continued, was because we wished to keep prohibition and the best way to get and keep prohibition before the people next to the human voice is through the printed word. The reason the wets are so very anxious to elect the next president is fully explained in a leaflet by that title and she urged every union to obtain a supply of these and distribute them, for who knows what a leaflet may do. She urged that every union should become a silver star union, that is, that for every six members a subscription to the Union Signal should be sent in. She read the poem "Columbus" and urged that we too "sail on and on and on."

Our corresponding secretary, Mrs. Clarence J. Elting of Highland, told us why a wet should not be president. A prominent politican said that only one more liberal U. S. Supreme Court Justice was needed in order to render the eighteenth amendment void. The wets are constantly at work while the drys sleep.

The president has the power of appointing forty thousand officials so it is extremely necessary that he should be a dry. It will be terribly demoralizing to the whole nation if a wet should be elected. If we do not upbold the hands of the good officials, we deserve to lose what we have worked so hard to gain.

Mrs. Covert informed us that a federal office has been opened in Kingston and so that should make it easier to do more work for enforcement.

After singing the song, "Some Glad Day," our county president conducted a quiz of ten questions, five of which were given at this time and the rest later.

1. What are the requirements for membership in the W. C. T. U.?

Ans. Sign the pledge and pay your dues.

2. How may one become a life member?

Ans. By paying ten dollars to the county and twenty-five to the State W. C. T. U.

3. Can you name ten departments?

Ans. Scientific Temperance Instruction, Literature, Peace, Patriotic Service, Citizenship, Americanization, Child Welfare, Anti-Narcotics, Sabbath Observance, Sabbath School Work and many others.

4 How are the dollar dues divided?

Ans: Thirty-five cents goes for subscription to state paper, twenty-five cents for local union, forty cents to county, of which thirty cents goes to state and that in turn sends ten cents to National W. C. T. U. Of this ten cents, one goes to the World W. C. T. U.

5. How does a local Union become a light line Union?

Ans. By paying five dollars for the temperance missionary work and sending the Union Signal to some foreign missionary.

The Rev. E. G. Reith of Walden was introduced by our president and made the address of the afternoon on the subject, "Majority Rule."

He began his address by telling us that when he went to New York city as pastor he was told very many things about its lawlessness and general degradation but he had found that much of what he had heard was not true. He was invited to speak at a W. C. T. U. meeting there and was surprised to find it so strong. They were so much interested in the things that make for happiness and the welfare of the human race.

He said it was wonderful what the power of God harnessed to an individual could do in transforming and renewing that life and others through that life.

He showed us in a word picture how the children of Israel suffered because they listened to the report of the majority and did not heed that of the minority.

"Majority Rule" has its weaknesses as well as its strengths. If God is on the side of one that side will eventually win in spite of obstacles just as it did when the children of Israel finally went in and possessed the land with one of the two who brought in a minority report as leader. We need first of all a restatement of our faith in God, then march forward together.

The attitude of the people of New York city on the temperance question is largely due to the fact that the New York papers are largely owned by wets.

The wets say because so many people are dying of alcoholism therefore prohibition is wrong and should be abolished, but they do not say that because so many people are put into prison that we should do away with the judges.

We should never surrender our convictions to diplomacy. When you have faith you can do anything.

After this address we were favored by a duet by Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Deyo.

Miss Grace Van B. Roberts told us who was responsible for law enforcement.

She is chairman of the Law Enforcement League of Ulster county. Every citizen is responsible for law enforcement in a republic. Some say, "Oh, the law cannot be enforced therefore it should be repealed." We do not say that about other laws that are broken.

The fewer the number whose lives are crossed by any law the easier will be its enforcement and the less need there is for that law but the greater the number whose lives any law crosses the harder will be its enforcement and the greater the need for it.

She told of the first parade for Women's Suffrage in New York city and how they were jeered and ridiculed and how changed everything was at time of the last parade. Women have done marvelous things all down through the ages. The women came to Christ's tomb while yet it was dark after all others had gone and that is just what the women have been doing ever since. Senator Borah says that law enforcement is the women's job. We should annex the young people. It will be a wonderful thing for them to be in this work.

While the offering was being taken we listened to a double duet by Mrs. Lais, Mrs. Deyo, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Sutton. This was much appreciated.

Mrs. Palen, our president, told us that Mrs. Armour, who was to be our special speaker for this Institute, is ill and cannot be with us at this time, so Miss Scott from Indiana, came in her place and gave us as she said a shop talk.

Miss Scott told us of how she came to be in this work and of how this work came to be taken up in her own little town. At first the people there were indifferent and seemed to think the W. C. T. U. did not really do any real work, but one day her uncle was run over by a drunken auto driver who proved to be the most notorious bootlegger in the place. This so aroused public opinion that a demand was made for a temperance society and a W. C. T. U. was formed. Then one of the members gave the federal officers a tip, a raid was made, the still was seized and after that there was no question of the popularity of the union and many new members were gained and the country was cleared up. She urged us to do things and then there would be no trouble in gaining numbers. The W. C. T. U. is challenged to "carry on."

We have to exercise our Christian faith in order to grow. Stand fearlessly for the right and get into action. Meet argument with argument. Meet intolerance with tolerance and press on to ultimate victory.

A solo was sung by our recording secretary, Mrs. Webster Hare, of Wallkill.

Mrs. Palen then asked the rest of the questions in the quiz, after which the New Hurley Loyal Temperance Legion gave the following splendidly executed program under the able leadership of their director, Miss Bertha Sutton:

Recitation.........Ralph Sherwood
Exercise..............Three Girls
Solo.............Gladys Rhinehart
Recitation....James Gerow Wilkins
L. T. L. Rally Cry.

The County L. T. L. secretary, Eleanor R. Brown, of the Plattekill Union, made an earnest plea for every union to organize an L. T. L. that we may thus help safeguard and help the children of the county to grow to be the citizens they should be.

Our treasurer, Mrs. Martha H. Bell, of Milton, made a plea that every union should accept the budget plan which is that each union should raise one dollar for each member, one-half of which stays in the local union and thus provides funds for much needed work.

After announcements by the president, the meeting adjourned.

The evening session opened with a song service conducted by Mrs. Brown, consisting of "America", "Onward Christian Soldiers", and "This Is My Father's House", by the audience and a selection by the trio, Mrs. Deyo and Mrs. Brown of Highland, and Mrs. Sutton of Clintondale.

The audience then enjoyed the treat, a flute solo by Mr. Crane, the principal of Wallkill High School.

Mrs. Bell conducted the devotional exercises and an anthem was given by the choir, followed by a duet by Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Deyo and two solos by the Messrs. Harold and Raymond Sutton of Clintondale.

As Mrs. Armour was unable to be present on account of illness our county president very graciously introduced Miss Scott of Indiana as the speaker of the evening. She began her lecture by reciting the poem, "The Builders", which compared the work of an architect with the work of a mother and adapted it to the great buildings of New York city which seem as though they never could decay and yet we know they will. She compared these buildings to the work of a mother whose tomb is in Indiana and whose grave is a shrine because of her boy, Abraham Lincoln, and as the poem said the work of the mother was much greater than that of the architect who planned the wonderful building of New York city because her work was for eternity.

The W. C. T. U. is called organized motherhood and if this is so we too are building for eternity. A baby is the most helpless of all young things and so it needs all the care that the great institutions of the world can give it. A mother has such a wonderful power for fashioning that little life. She can give it a right or a wrong outlook on life for the child's mind is wax to write upon and marble to hold that writing.

During the war when she heard, day after day, the boys marching down the streets of the city where she was living, on their way to France, she could stand it no longer so she went and offered her services but all she could do was sing and they at first refused but finally they sent her over to sing in the camps.

It was over there singing in the army camps and listening to the boys talk that she came to understand things that she never understood before.

While their buddies were constantly going over into the great beyond she rather thought that those left behind caught a glimpse too of the over there. After singing one of her contributions one night a negro lad sang a song of home and mother. Then she realized what it was the boys wanted and that they had a different vision of home and mother than ever before. They were far enough away to get a new perspective of America and her problems.

Even though the battles were terribly hard that they were fighting (and they fought them bravely) the hardest battle of all, and they called it the acid test came after the war was over and before the boys came home.

The girls from all over the war devastated area of France had flocked into Paris for shelter. They had no one to watch over and protect them, no one to care and no legitimate means of earning a living so they became an easy prey to evil as did our boys when they came back to Paris thirty thousand a week strong with nothing much to do. Paris was no place for our boys at such a time.

It was such a pitiful thing to see almost everything to pull those boys down who had been so brave all through the war and so little to help them up. The helpers forgot all about themselves in those days in their efforts to help and encourage the boys to do what was right. Miss Scott talked earnestly with them and they told her the reason why they were so unprepared to fight this hardest battle of all. They told her it was largely due to the fact that in childhood they had not been taught and told of the sacredness of the human body and so when they had to fight this battle they were morally weak.

One boy told her that while still very young his mind had been filled with low vulgar talk and stories and as his parents were silent on certain subjects he got a wrong slant on life. He vowed if ever he had any children they should be taught the truth on certain subjects and the sacredness of the human body.

If you drop a little poison into the mind of a child all the avenues of that child's life will be filled with that poison and he will have a distorted view of life. The homes of today and tomorrow must not be silent on this subject. We are often so busy with skill and processes that we do not teach our children how to live. It isn't our duty to criticize but to help the youth of today.

So many of the boys in France said that the girl he would like to marry was the true blue girl who loves honor, cherishes ideals and tries to embody them in her life. No cigarettes and no wine, no lipsticks and no rouge in the true blue girl's life. A true blue girl should be true to her God and her country and have courage to stand for the right.

Some of the boys said that the only kind of a girl he would marry was too good for him. A man who degrades himself will tarnish womanhood and drag them down.

God made man and woman in His own image and He expects both to be morally right. We should all work for a white life for two. Both men and women should be able to bring to the home their very best. We can't break nature's laws and get away with it.

She told a story about John and Mary. John went out from home and sowed his wild oats, then settled down and married Mary, a winsome true blue girl. When the first baby came John was very proud until the doctor told him that the baby was blind. Then John felt terribly hard about it and blamed God for it but the doctor told him, "No, it is your own fault. It is the result of the wild oats you have sown."

The burden of helping protect our boys and girls by forewarning them and teaching them the truth about themselves should be upon all our shoulders.

After the Chicago fire the people built fire-proof buildings. There is no reason at all why we should not solve this moral problem and give our young people the right kind of information at the right time.

If we want to paint a lovely picture we must look at beautiful things. If we want our children to live beautiful lives we must be careful to guard against sordid, unlovely, impure things in their line of vision as now comes to them on every side.

The boys in France told her that America must help her young people to be more pure or else her future would be in danger. That is the reason why Miss Scott gave up her musical career and consecrated her life to helping our young people to live lives of moral purity. She has gone before the young people of very many of the schools in this nation, trying to help them get a right view of life and to solve their problems, and always this verse has helped her and made it possible for her to go on:

"And He sent His word and it healed them." She wants the W. C. T. U. to answer the whys of our young people.

After this stirring appeal the minutes of the afternoon and evening sessions were read and the following resolutions were adopted:

Law Enforcement.

The supreme law of this land is the constitution with all its amendments. Every loyal citizen will strive to obey the law and use every effort to secure its enforcement. Today the issue centers in the 18th amendment. The friends of prohibition law enforcement demand positive declaration in party platforms and by party leaders.

Resolved, that increasing emphasis be placed upon instructing not only the young but adults as well, especially people who come to us from foreign lands, concerning the nature of alcohol and tobacco and their deleterious effects on the human system.

Resolved, that we express our gratitude and deep appreciation to the officers and members of the Wallkill Union for their warm welcome and generous hospitality; to the pastor and officials of the church for their gracious cooperation; to Miss Scott for so ably filling Mrs. Armour's place on the program; to those who gave us much pleasure with their musical selections; and to all whose contributions have helped make the 49th annual institute of the Ulster County Woman's Christian Temperance Union a success.

Two duets were rendered, one of which was sung by the Messrs. Sutton of Clintondale and the other by a lady and gentleman from Wallkill.

After the benediction, the institute was adjourned to meet next fall in convention at Saugerties.

The test as to the success of any punishment you inflict upon your child is—what kind of character is it building?

GERMAN FINDS IODINE IN MILK OF WYK COWS

Emden, Germany, May 23 (AP).—A valuable medicinal remedy in the form of iodinized milk has been discovered by Dr. Gmelin, a physician in Wyk on Foehr Island in the North Sea.

Dr. Gmelin established the existence of from one-fourteenth to one-twenty-third of a grain of iodine in the milk of cows and sheep grazing on the islands of the German west coast. Its presence is attributed to the powerful influence of the North Sea, noted for its emanations of large quantities of salt, radium and iodine, especially during low tide.

"Should Our Colleges Educate?" is the subject of a magazine article. Maybe they should but they can't because of the short time between football and baseball season.

Since there are so many mistakes we can make, why do some people always just insist on making the same one over and over?

COME AND MEET THE "SMUGGLEMAN"

Well, he is to appear at St. John's Parish House on Thursday afternoon and Friday evening of this week, and lest you do not know about this naughty little gnome, here's the story. In ancient days when fairies and small merrie folk made glad the heart of people, there was one naughty little gnome who crept out every night to see if there were any boys or girls who had ventured out into the night, and if he found any such he captured them and carried them far away from God's bright sunshine. There they had to stay until the Fairy Queen learned that they were sorry for having gone out when they should not. She declared war upon the gnome, and by strategy won the child or children back and took them to their home. All this pretty story will be told in an operetta called "The Smuggleman," which will be given by the children of St. John's Church school who have been trained by Miss Reeves. On Thursday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock the operetta will be given for the benefit of the children and friends of the church school, and it will be repeated on Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Parish House, when it is hoped that every seat will be taken, for the money gained from these two performances will be for the benefit of the church school.

The knocker should hit the trail out of town.

"You're a Liar" Said Moran

called him up and said if he wanted 4-Hose Band to get the job he had better get busy. Martin said that before he got busy the music com-mittee had been asked day and night to give the music to a union band.

Was Willing to Join Union.

In reply to questions by Chairman Moran, Mr. Martin said that it was the intention of 4-Hose Band to join the Musicians' Union. He said he had gone to Mr. Ward, president of the local union, and explained that 4-Hose Band had just money enough to allow twenty of its members to become unionized, and Ward had told him that only those who joined the union would be allowed to play. If twenty joined twenty could play. As a matter of fact, said Mr. Martin, 4-Hose Band did not have enough money for all of its forty members to join the union at the present time.

Then turning his oratorical guns on Mr. Murphy, Martin said that Mr. Murphy at a previous meeting had stated on the floor that no outsider should be allowed to run our conven-tion, but now he says we should lis-ten to the Musicians' Union.

Whitbeck Explains Vote.

Ray Whitbeck, who had been waiting for a chance to obtain the floor, arose and said that he wanted to make it plain that no one could influence his vote one way or the other. As this was a firemen's con-vention he had favored having a firemen's band furnish the conven-tion music. "That's why I voted to give a donation to Excelsior Hose and not to the band," said Mr. Whit-beck.

Union Plays Scabs.

Jonah Pleugh said that he did not see what all the "holler was about". He had been in firemen's parades where union bands played with scab bands and no kick had been raised.

Kolts's Idea.

W. H. Kolts, who is a director of the H. V. V. F. A., said that the only thing to do was for Martin to with-draw his band.

Mr. Martin did not agree, strongly contending that the meeting had no legal right to reconsider the vote of the previous meeting. "If you hire another band," he said, "you will have two bands on your hands."

Martin Told of "Threats".

Following further heated discus-sion Mr. Martin again secured the floor and said that just before he had entered the meeting he had met Moran and that the latter had threat-ened that if he did not withdraw 4-Hose Band that it would injure his chances of being elected president of the H. V. V. F. A. at the meeting in June. Martin at the present time is first vice president and if the usual custom is followed out will be elected president at the June meeting.

Real Fireworks Started.

Mr. Martin's remarks that he had been threatened drew immediate oral fireworks.

Chairman Moran dropped the gavel and advancing toward Martin said, "I'm as a big a man as you are, and if you say I threatened you, you're a liar; I'll yell it to your face."

Martin, who was on his feet, step-ped forward and promptly returned, "You're another".

Apparently about to come to blows, they suddenly realized the situation and halted in their tracks.

"You are the man who is busting this convention up," shouted Moran to Martin.

Mr. Martin retorted that Moran as chairman should keep his hands off the music committee as he had kept his hands off the other commit-tees he had appointed.

A. J. Murphy, Sr., leaped to his feet as Moran and Martin ceased their orational combat and said that it was too bad a "lousy" $25 should cause all the trouble. Mr. Murphy raised the point that the committee had no right to make a donation to any hose company. "Am I not right" he asked, addressing Alder-man Sam Mann.

"The city has not the right to make any donations," agreed the alderman.

"I call for my motion," shouted Mr. Dunne at this point, "it is not a debatable motion."

"What is the motion?" asked a delegate.

Mr. Ulrich, who had fired the original bomb, jumped to his feet saying, "My motion is that the vote be reconsidered."

Fire Chief Quells Conflagration.

At this point Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy was given the floor and said that he had not intended to speak and that he was sorry that the matter had come up on the floor. "There's no use fighting," said Chief Murphy, and he made the suggestion that the entire matter be laid on the table until another meeting and that the musicians' union be request-ed to send a committee to the next meeting and state just under what conditions they would play or not.

The chief's words succeeded in quelling the vocal conflagration and a motion to defer the matter until the next meeting was promptly adopted.

Ulrich Withdrew Motion.

Mr. Ulrich was on his feet again and said that in the interest of peace he would withdraw his origi-nal motion to reconsider the vote of the previous meeting.

Martin and Moran Shake Hands.

Chairman Moran asked that the next meeting be held shortly as the time for the convention was grow-ing near. Some one suggested the following Tuesday and it was adopt-ed as the meeting night. Before the meeting adjourned Mr. Moran and Mr. Martin buried the hatchet and shook hands.

72 Companies in Line.

During the meeting it was an-nounced that including the home fire companies the total number of fire companies that had signified their intention of taking part in the parade was 72, and more were ex-pected.

Continue Cold Storage Action

Conclude Testimony on Part of Plain-tiff in Action to Recover Damages for Loss of Fruit.

Testimony on the part of plaintiff was concluded Tuesday afternoon in the action for damages brought by Fred W. Vail and his son against John Milo Hepworth and Joseph A. Hepworth to recover damages for loss of fruit which was damaged while in the Hepworth cold storage plant. Mr. Hepworth seeks to re-cover $1,000 for rental of the storage space claiming that he had nothing to do with the storage of the fruit, hav-ing rented a space to the Vails in which they might store anything or nothing. J. Milo Hepworth who is actively in charge of the plant said he had rented a certain space to Mr. Vail and at that time there was an understanding that he was to receive the fruit stored there and place it in position and to remove it from the plant once. Should Mr. Vail desire to remove and return the fruit again it was to be done by Mr. Vail and his men. Hepworth claims he was to handle the fruit but once.

The Vail fruit was stored in the cooler in the fall and placed in posi-tion by Mr. Hepworth's men. It was removed a few weeks later by Mr. Hepworth's men and sent to the Vail farm where it was repacked and re-turned to the cooler. Having handled the fruit once Mr. Hepworth testified his services had been concluded and he contends that when the fruit was returned to the plant in cartons for storage his duties had ceased and it was Mr. Vail who stored it and han-dled it. If there was any improper packing or stacking of the fruit the second time it was received at the cooler it was done by and under the supervision of Mr. Vail.

Milo Hepworth testified that in the winter along about January 1 when he discovered the Vail fruit was dam-aged he called Mr. Vail to come and look it over. He noticed the fruit had settled in the center and there was water on the floor. The fruit had heated and spoiled on account of lack of air space between stacks.

Mr. Hepworth testified that Mr. Vail came and looked over the fruit and inquired if his insurance covered the fruit so spoiled and Mr. Hep-worth said he believed not. At that time the witness said there was no mention made of Mr. Hepworth be-ing responsible or of his improper storing of the fruit.

Testimony was introduced by the plaintiffs showing that fruit packed as their apples had been in cartons had kept well in other storage. Some of the fruit from the same orchard and picked at the same time and packed similarly was in storage in New York and that kept.

Court adjourned at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon with defendant's case still on. The case was resumed at 10 o'clock this morning.

A motion was made at conclusion of plaintiff's case to dismiss the com-plaint as against J. A. Hepworth as no testimony had been introduced to connect him with the transaction al-though it was shown that about the time the fruit was stored in the cool-er a deed transferring J. Milo Hep-worth's interest in the property had been given to his father, J. A. Hep-worth. Title has since been trans-ferred back to the son. The transfer had no connection with the present case and was made shortly after the space was rented. The motion was denied but Judge Smith said he would entertain a similar motion later in the case.

BLACK & DECKER

PORTABLE ELECTRIC DRILLS

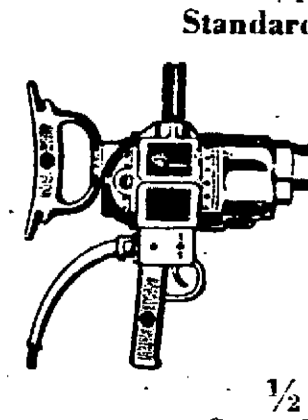

"With the Pistol Grip and Trigger Switch"

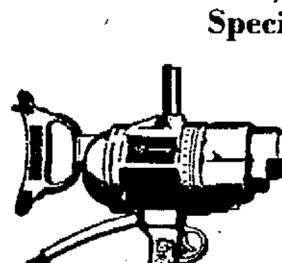

¼ in. Light Duty Drill

¼ in. Standard Drill

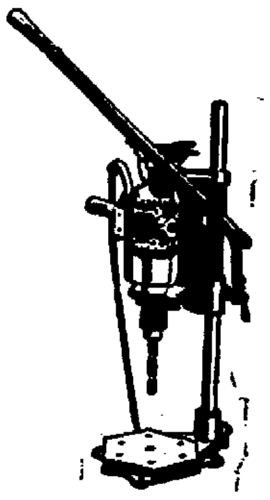

½ in. Special Drill

¾ in. Heavy Duty Drill

Portable Electric Drills

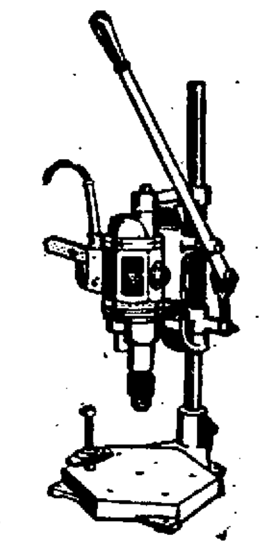

THERE is a Black & Decker Portable Electric to suit the needs of anyone who drills holes in wood, iron, steel, or composition material. These drills are sturdily built to stand many years of hard usage, and backed by a factory guarantee. The motors will operate on either direct or alternating current, and can be run from any light socket. Each drill has plenty of power to drill thousands of holes up to its rated capacity in the toughest material. Motors and important working parts are mounted on ball bearings. Made in sizes from ¼ inch to 1½ inches. There is a drill to fit your needs, whether you drill a dozen holes or a million.

½ in. Special Bench Drill Stand

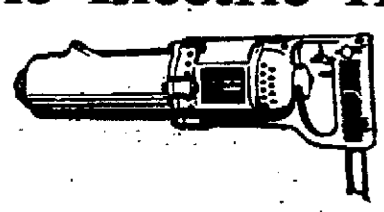

Bench Drill Stands

These stands are designed to be used with the Black & Decker Portable Electric Drills, and will quickly convert a portable drill into a sturdy, convenient drill press, for precision or heavy-duty drilling and cutting. The stands are made for each size of drill from the ½ inch Special up. The long arm gives tremendous leverage, and the bracket holding the drill is adjustable for any height and any radial position desired. Smaller stands for the ¼ inch drills are also available, as are Post Drill Stands for the large tools, which permits attaching the stand to wall or post, if bench space is limited.

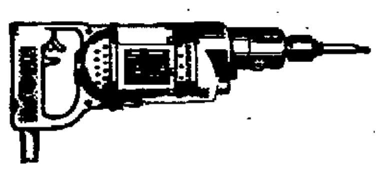

Heavy Duty Bench Drill Stand

Portable Electric Hammer

When a contract job includes cutting holes in concrete or brick, channeling or demolition work of any kind, the job is paid for by the number of blows per minute. 50 blows per minute is a good average for a laborer with sledge hammer and star drill. But put that same laborer and star drill on a Black & Decker Electric Hammer, and you get 2,300 hard sharp blows per minute all day long. This is one of the greatest advancements ever made in labor saving tools, and is rapidly being recognized by builders, electricians, plumbers and contractors all over the country as the finest electric hammer available. Its capacity is a 1-inch hole in concrete or brick, and it will make that 1-inch hole 3 inches deep in a minute in the hardest concrete. It is saving many hours on many types of hammering operations every day.

Portable Electric Screw Drivers

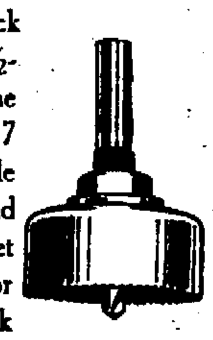

This is one of the greatest time and labor saving tools of the age. Any business that uses screws, either in manufacture or in packing can reduce costs with this Electric Screw Driver. Oftimes the saving amounts to 50% or more over old hand methods.

Equipped with positive clutch, which automatically disengages when the screw has been driven home, permits even and precise work without marring the wood or metal. Furniture and refrigerator factories, body plants, automobile assembling plants and many other industries are using these tools in quantities to speed up production.

The larger sizes are particularly adapted for driving lag screws, tightening bolts and nuts and setting studs. Used in the shipping department for crating, lagging or disassembling pieces that are shipped "knocked down."

Equipped with universal motors which operate on alternating or direct current.

Hole Saws

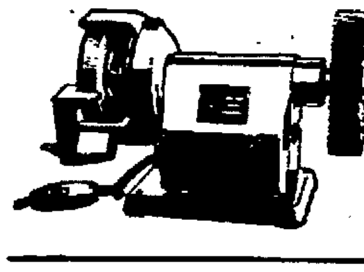

By using a Black & Decker Hole Saw, in the chuck of a ½-inch Electric Drill, the capacity of the drill is increased to 3½ inches, or 7 times its normal rating. These Hole Saws are made of tempered steel and will cut clean-round holes in wood, sheet metal, cast iron, aluminum, bakelite or any material that can be cut with a hack saw.

The Saws are made in a wide range of sizes from ¾-inch to 3½ inches, by eighths, and are held in the chuck of the drill by a demountable mandrel.

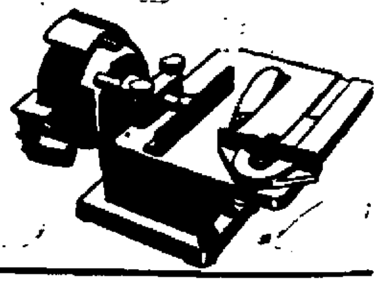

Used by plumbers and electricians on pipe and conduit boxes, in garages for installing clocks, speedometers, heaters, etc., and in many other trades where holes must be cut quickly and accurately. The saws are marked for various pipe tap and conduit sizes.

Combination Grinder

The Black & Decker Combination Grinder is one of the most handy bench tools on the market. It is very compact, yet has many advantages of a larger grinder. A universal motor, operating from any light socket, drives a 5-inch grinding wheel on one end of the spindle and a wire wheel brush for buffing and polishing on the other end. A tool rest and wheel guard is provided for the grinding wheel. The motor and spindle are ball bearing.

The wire wheel brush is interchangeable with rag wheels, circular saws, etc. We provide a saw table and saw to be attached to this grinder, which makes it very handy for small wood or fibre sawing. A set guide and mitre guide are mounted on the saw table.

236 Killed in Mine Disasters

(By The Associated Press.)

Indications were today that 236 miners had lost their lives in four mine accidents since Saturday, as follows:

Mather, Pa.—Coal mine explosion; 235 known dead; 42 missing.

Yukon, W. Va.—Coal mine explosion; 13 known dead; 4 missing.

Harlan, Ky.—Coal mine explosion; two dead; 14 missing.

Kimberly, Nev.—Copper mine explosion; four dead.

Mather, Pa., May 23 (AP).—With all hope abandoned, Mather today grimly turned its attention to preparations for burial of its dead while state mine officials and rescue squads continued their search for the two more blast victims still unaccounted for.

One hundred and fifty-five bodies had been recovered.

The hope that arose with the finding of a lone miner alive yesterday faded as rescue squads returning from the mine expressed the belief that no others had been spared.

Among the bodies found today was that of Andy Bootz. Three of his brothers were among the dead removed last night. They had just entered the employ of the Mather company when the explosion occurred, Saturday.

Tentative plans were laid today for an investigation of the explosion.

The explosion was the sixth worst of its kind in the history of the United States. Three hundred and sixty-one lives were lost in Monongah, W. Va., in 1907; 263 in Dawson, N. M., 1913; 259 in Cherry, Ills., 1909; 139 in Jacob's Creek, Pa., 1907, and 200 in Scofield, Utah, 1900.

13 Known Dead

Bluefield, W. Va., May 23 (AP).—Thirteen miners were known to have been killed and four were missing today following a blast in the No. 1 mine of the Yukon-Pocahontas Coal Company at Yukon, McDowell county, last night.

The bodies of the thirteen workers had been brought to the surface by rescuers. The exact number of men in the mine at the time of the explosion was unknown.

Only loaders and machine cutters were in the workings, it was said. The bodies removed were those of loaders.

The mine was quickly cleared of gases, according to reports received here and rescue efforts pushed to the limit. A state mine department safety car and workers was sent from Matoaka, and the Consolidation Coal Company also responded with a rescue squad.

The cause of the explosion was undetermined, but its source was thought to have been gas.

Yukon is in an isolated section and news of the blast did not reach here until hours after it occurred.

Explosion Kills Two

Harlan, Ky., May 23 (AP).—Two miners had been killed and 14 were missing in an explosion that wrecked a mine of the Black Mountain Coal Corporation near here last night.

None of those trapped was expected to survive.

Two bodies, badly mangled, were recovered immediately after the blast between the mine entrance and the scene of the explosion, which occured deep in the mine.

After the night force went to work an explosion wrecked the level leading to the lateral on which the men were working. Cars were wrecked, ventilating fans stopped and tracks leading back to the shaft opening were torn up.

Approximately 75 men were in the mine at the time of the explosion which, according to officials, was caused by coal dust.

Four Killed In Nevada

Kimberly, Nev., May 23 (AP).—Four miners were killed in the old Alpha shaft of the Consolidated Copper Mines at Kimberly, near here, yesterday by a cave-in of material which had been blocking the shaft for years. The men were clearing the shaft at the time of the accident, and were working about 650 feet underground.

PAINTED ICE BLACK AND HASTENED CHANNEL OPENING

Seattle, Wash., May 23 (AP).—Lake Labarge, locale of the strange goings-on in Robert W. Service's poem "The Cremation of Sam Magee," was the scene of an unusual operation against low temperature recently when a steamboat captain painted a black streak across the ice to hasten its melting and thus permit an early voyage from White Horse to Dawson, Alaska.

Remembering from his school book physics that black absorbs the sun's rays and retains heat, H. Wheeler, owner and captain of the steamboat Casca, had his crew smear a strip of refuse oil and lamp black forty feet wide across the glittering ice of Labarge.

A report of the venture received here said that the application caused the ice to melt sooner than the glistening expanse that had not been painted. The Casca was said to have sailed through the 22 mile canal etched in the ice by the oil and lamp black and moved toward Dawson.

Coolidge Vetoes McNary-Haugen Farm Relief Bill

Whether There Will be Any Farm Relief Enacted This Session is Now Up to Congress—Objections of the President Summarized Under Six Headings.

Washington, May 23 (AP).—President Coolidge today vetoed the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill.

Thus for the second time in as many years Mr. Coolidge had disapproved a farm plan embodying the equalization fee machinery for surplus crop control.

Whether there will be any farm relief enacted this session now is up to Congress. The House and Senate have a choice of repassing the bill without the equalization fee, in the hope of winning presidential favor, or of attempting enactment of the measure as it stands by over-riding Mr. Coolidge's veto.

There is much doubt that the latter course would prove successful.

The president vetoed the bill on the grounds of constitutionality and because the "so-called equalization fee and other features of the old measure are still prejudicial in my opinion to sound public policy and to agriculture."

The veto draws the issue between the president and the farm group in congress more tightly than it ever has been and, unless some further action is taken at the capitol, will place the agricultural question before the coming presidential conventions as an outstanding controversy.

Frank O. Lowden is one of the bill's most outspoken champions. Vice President Dawes favors it and Senator Curtis of Kansas and Senator Watson of Indiana have voted for it.

Secretary Hoover has been regarded as standing with the president on farm relief.

Each house would have to muster a two thirds vote to pass the bill over Mr. Coolidge's veto. This session the senate passed it by a vote of 53 to 23, or slightly more than the necessary two-thirds, in the House the measure was approved 204 to 121, or slightly less than two-thirds.

Its consideration in both houses was enlivened by a discussion of its possible effect on the forthcoming presidential campaign, the names of Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, and Vice President Dawes frequently being injected into the debate.

Mr. Coolidge said in his veto message that this year's McNary-Haugen bill is in some respects an improvement over the one he vetoed last year but nevertheless contained "new and highly objectionable provisions."

The bill, he said, "essentially consisted of stimulation of the price of agricultural commodities and products thereof by artificially controlling the surpluses so that there will be an apparent scarcity on the market."

The veto ended with an expression of hope that farm legislation "along the lines suggested in my annual message, with which many of the provisions of this bill are in harmony, may be enacted."

Mr. Coolidge wrote a twelve page printed pamphlet outlining his objections to the bill and included with it another pamphlet of equal size giving the views of Attorney General Sargent on the legal phases of the measure.

The objections of the president were summarized by him under these six headings:

"First, its attempted price fixing policy.

"Second, the tax characteristics of the equalization fee.

"Third, the widespread bureaucracy which it would set up.

"Fourth, its encouragement to profiteering and wasteful distribution by middlemen.

"Fifth, its stimulation of over production.

"Sixth, its aid to our foreign agricultural competitors."

In addition, he declared that "these topics by no means exhaust the list of fallacious and, indeed, dangerous aspects of the bill, but they afford ample grounds for its emphatic rejection."

"In conclusion," Mr. Coolidge declared, "if the measure is enacted one would be led to wonder how long it would be before producers in other lines would clamor for similar 'equalizing' subsidies from the public coffers. The lobbies of congress would be filled with emmisaries from every momentarily distressed industry demanding relief of a burdensome surplus at the expense of the treasury. Once we plunge into the futile sophistries of such a system of wholesale commercial doles for special groups of middlemen and distributors at the expense of farmers and other producers it is difficult to see what the end might be."

May Be Natural Gas.

What may turn out to be a pocket of natural gas was said to have been found on the Daly boarding house property at Mt. Marion, Monday, by Mr. Lapo, artesian well expert of Woodstock. After drilling for a distance of 100 feet without striking water a flow of gas is said to have burst forth, and when a torch was applied to a small pipe inserted, a flame, that burned throughout the afternoon, burst forth.

Pig's Squeal Calls Police

Practical Use at Last Found for That Hitherto Only Unused Part—Thieves Regret They Didn't Stick to Quiet Mutton.

Chicago, May 23 (AP).—The pig's squeal, long lamented as the least portion of a porker for which a utilitarian purpose has been found, came into its own last night. It became a police alarm, summoning officers to 35th and Throop streets, where they found three men trying to put a pig in an automobile.

"Lend us a hand," said Jack Crawby, one of the three, to the officers. "This is my uncle's pig and her name is Emily, and she got into the stockyards by mistake."

"How could you tell," inquired Sergeant Michael Conway, "that of 16,000 pigs in that pen, this one was Emily?"

"If she isn't Emily, she's very much like her," was the reply. "I'll bet uncle won't know the difference."

The officers gave the three men a hand with the porker, but instead of loading her into the car, they dropped her back into the pen. Then they arrested Crawby, John Fogarty and Michael O'Donnell.

"How could we know," asked Crawby, "that one pig's squealing would start the whole 16,000 yelling for the police?"

"Mutton would have been better," commented O'Donnell. "I told them so. Mutton is quiet-like."

WOMAN FIRES ON CONVICTS; SAVES LIFE OF HUSBAND

Prison Agent's Wife Uses Six-shooter to Quell Mutiny of Prisoners.

Del Rio, Texas.—Effective use of a six-shooter has enabled Mrs. R. S. Cloud to rescue her husband for the second time in two months after he had been overpowered by convicts he was escorting to the state penitentiary.

How Mrs. Cloud, wife of a state penitentiary agent, probably saved her husband's life was revealed when they arrived here en route to the prison at Huntsville with 20 of the 21 prisoners they were transporting.

Mrs. Cloud was driving one of the three machines used to carry the prisoners, when the four men in her husband's car attacked him. The prisoners apparently had planned the attack and waited until the cars reached the arid country near Marfa, when they seized Cloud's pistol and attempted to shoot him. Finding he had removed the cartridges the men beat him with the weapon and when he produced a knife, they took it from him.

Woman Opens Fire.

Her attention attracted by the shouts of her husband, Mrs. Cloud leaped from her machine, spraining her ankle. As she approached Cloud's car she opened fire with a pistol on two of the men who started to run. She wounded one and he surrendered, as did two others. One escaped.

The 14 men in the lead machine, a specially constructed truck, and the three in Mrs. Cloud's car made no effort to escape.

As there were no guards with the caravan except the driver of the truck and the Clouds, they were unable to start an immediate hunt for the prisoner who escaped. Finding her husband only slightly injured, Mrs. Cloud returned to her car and they continued the trip.

Saves Life Once Before.

Mrs. Cloud was first credited with saving her husband's life about two months ago when they were transporting three prisoners from a jail to the penitentiary at Huntsville. On this occasion the prisoners also selected the sparsely settled district near Marfa to attack the Clouds.

Cloud was overpowered, chained to a tree, and was being beaten by the men when Mrs. Cloud entered the fray and routed the trio. Although the three escaped across the border into Mexico, they were later captured.

Mine Experts Develop Economical Carbonizing

Washington.—Experts of the bureau of mines have developed what is described as an economical process for carbonizing lignite, which opens up the possibility of adding enormously to the nation's fuel resources.

Extensive ligalte fields lie in North Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Texas and other states west of the Mississippi, making up nearly one-third of the total solid-fuel resources of the country. With the new process the carbonized lignite is molded into briquettes, which form a high-grade fuel.

Afraid of Punishment, Boy Burns to Death

Crestline, Kan.—Richard Lee Shott, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Shott, who lives on a farm near here, was burned to death, apparently because he feared he would be punished for setting fire to the barn.

The father stood in the blazing barn a short distance from the door. "Come to me, Dickey; I won't punish you," called the father, but the boy drew back into the flames.

200 Prison Inmates Ignore Chance to Flee

Ossining, N. Y.—Three Sing Sing prison convicts were overcome in fighting a fire that destroyed the interior of the prison mattress factory. None of the prisoners attempted to escape under cover of the fire, although 200 were working outside the walls at the time and the prison gates were opened to admit the entire Ossining fire department.

WHAT A Rexall ONE CENT SALE IS

It is a sale where you buy an item at the regular price, then another item of the same kind for one cent. As an illustration: The standard price of Klenzo Dental Creme is 50c, you buy a tube at this price and by paying 1 cent more, or 51 cents, you get two tubes. Every article in this sale is a high class standard piece of merchandise, just the same as is sold every day at the regular price.

This sale was developed by the United Drug Co. as an advertising plan. Rather than spend large sums of money in other ways to convince you of the merit of these goods, they are spending it on this sale in permitting us to sell you a full size package of high standard merchandise for 1 cent. It costs money to get new customers, but the sacrifice in profit is justified, knowing the goods will please you.

NURSES TO DISPOSE OF MEMORIAL QUESTION

Louisville, Ky., May 23 (AP).—The question of disposing of the $43,000 collected by American nurses for a memorial to Jane A. Delano, wartime head of the American Red Cross nursing service, will be settled at the biennial convention of the American Nurses' association here June 4 to 9.

The fund was established as a memorial to the 291 American nurses who gave their lives during the World War, as well as to Miss Delano.

Four major propositions have been made by different groups of nurses, as being suitable methods of using the memorial fund. One, sponsored by Miss Mabel T. Boardman, secretary of the Red Cross, plans for the construction of a Jane Delano room in the new Red Cross building known as the "Memorial to the Women of the World War," now being erected.

Miss Boardman's plan specified using $30,000 for building the room and the remainder of the fund for furnishing it. Some members of the Jane A. Delano committee objected on the grounds that the room would be buried in a small portion of what was a greater memorial.

Other proposals recommend use of the fund for building a monument in the national park in Washington, for needy nurses or scholarships, or for an endowment, the interest to be used for meeting foreign nursing appeals for financial assistance.

The height of gallantry is the man who stands and holds a revolving door open for a lady.

The menagerie of the Main circus consists of 563 beasts from all parts of the world. The personnel of the show is said to be high class and makes up acrobats, aerialists, clowns, riders and one of the best bands in circusdom. The parade, which the Walter L. Main circus is noted for, is said to be one of the largest exhibited by any show today. There will be five brass bands and the largest steam calliope ever constructed to furnish the music.

The shows, it is promised, will feature numerous novelties. The doors of the big tent will open at 1 and 7 p. m.

6 things to understand about used car allowances

1 When you trade-in your used car for a new car, you are first of all making a purchase, not a sale. You are simply applying your present car as a credit toward the purchase price of the new car.

2 Your used car has only one fundamental basis of value; i. e., what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.

3 Your used car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.

4 The largest allowance is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; sometimes it is not.

5 An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.

6 First judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in the allowances offered on your used car.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

Yellow Reappears for Evening—Stiff Satin Lace and Chiffon Are Favored Fabrics.

New York—The advent of stiff satin in the sphere of evening clothes by no means ousts chiffon. The swoops and dips, now made by the smartest skirts, to say nothing of the swirls and billows, demand various fabrics to produce the desired effects. It is not unusual to find a circular skirt in two layers, one a trifle shorter than the other. Tired dresses continue to be worn and wanted, and any form of drapery or treatment that adds movement is greatly to be desired.

The success of the longer skirt for evening is now assured. Gone is the fear that longer skirts add years, as they add inches. It is almost universally admitted that the longer skirt is slenderizing, as well as more elegant. No one really believes in the longer skirt for day, not even those who gladly subscribed to the longer one for dance and dinner wear.

Pale Yellow Chiffon with a Double Circular Skirt That Slopes Downward Toward the Back Presents an Unusual Handling of Lace in a Tri-Cornered Incrustation of Chantilly in the Same Tint. The Lace also Serves to Indicate an Almost Normal Waistline, While an Additional Feature is the Capelet.

The interesting color development is yellow. Absent from night scenes since it became so popular for sports, it has reappeared. Light greens of distinctly yellowish cast remain, and are in perfect accord. Amber, honey, and beige, successes of the winter season, are continued this spring in the stiff satins, which are important, and in laces, which are perhaps more important because of their wider appeal.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By the Associated Press).

New York—Mme. Carmen Rozzi, 38, 5 feet, 1½, 104 pounds, singer, is $6,000 richer for having climbed Mount Woolworth. She ascended the 1,251 steps in the 792-foot structure in 13 minutes 4 seconds, thereby winning a wager that it could not be done in less than half an hour.

Conakry, French Guinea—In order to run half a mile or so a Frenchman is making a trip of 1,000 miles on a camel's back and 2,000 miles more by boat and train. Rene Wirmth, who is attached to the colonial administration, will compete at the Olympic games. He is a middle-distance man.

New York—New style in pets—one that exterminates insects. Alfred E. Stark, export manager, has brought from Brazil a baby nosey bear, related to the anteater. Besides devouring pests, he says, it is much more friendly than a dog or a cat.

Oxford, England—Sinclair Lewis and bride are honeymooning in a roadster which has a luxurious trailing bunkhouse, equipped among other things with a library, a typewriter and a bath. The first meal after their start was a sirloin steak.

New York—Now the five and ten cent grocery. It has made its bow in the theatrical district. Anything from caviar to bacon for a nickel or a dime self service.

Washington—Most taxi meters are honest. Uncle Sam's O. K. is on them. The bureau of standards sent Ralph W. Smith to make a series of tests with taxis, his own car and a measured street.

New York—Unless some society for the prevention of cruelty or something takes action an international dance marathon will start in Madison Square Garden, June 16, and continue until the last exhausted couple sinks to the floor. Prizes of $25,000 are promised.

Milan—The Fascisti won't stand for unauthorized Annie Oakleys. Deputies ride on railroads free, but Professor Gino Panebianco, Padua Socialist, used his pass three years after he was defeated for re-election. And now he must tell the judge about it.

BAFFLING EPIDEMIC THREATENS TERRAPINS

Washington, May 23.—A malign fate is draping the table adornments of government executives to keep the American epicure supplied with one of his choicest and most historic delicacies, terrapin.

Eager drafts upon the native supply of this breed of turtle produced it to a rarity years ago, and the bureau of fisheries of the Department of Commerce has been trying to develop a method for its artificial culture.

By careful search and maintenance the bureau's biologists were able to build up a sizable crop of the luscious reptiles at a protected point on the Carolina coast, but one disease or pest after another has beset them, reducing their numbers and stopping their propagation.

Until recently, however, the patient struggle against the troubles of the terrapin has been attended by fair success, but now a plague has beset the herd which has brought hope lower than ever before. It first appeared in February, 52 terrapins dying in that month, and the number increased to 99 in March.

Baffled investigators have found no cure for the disease nor any method of protecting the healthy stock from infection.

Department Buyers for 112 Great Stores

insist on Lux for their OWN things

The greatest group of experts ever consulted

92% of the Department Store Buyers interviewed in 112 of the most important stores in America insist on Lux for their own precious things!

Imagine what this means!

These women are the buyers of women's and children's dresses, blouses, underthings, hosiery, gloves, for the great stores which do three-fourths of all the department store business in the United States.

Experts in Clothes

They are paid huge salaries because of their sure knowledge of fabrics and styles.

For the first time, hundreds of these experts in big cities from Boston to Los Angeles have given their opinion about the best way to cleanse today's clothes and modern, sheer fabrics.

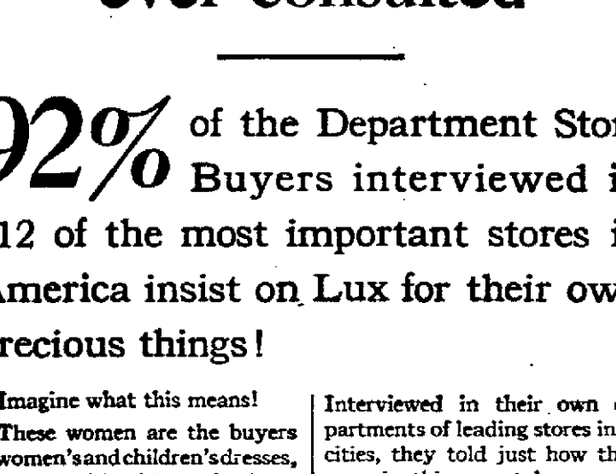

Interviewed in their own departments of leading stores in 26 cities, they told just how their own nice things are taken care of.

And their verdict was well-nigh unanimous!

92% of these experts insist on Lux!

Knowing clothes and fabrics, and the importance of the right method of cleansing, these experts will take no chances!

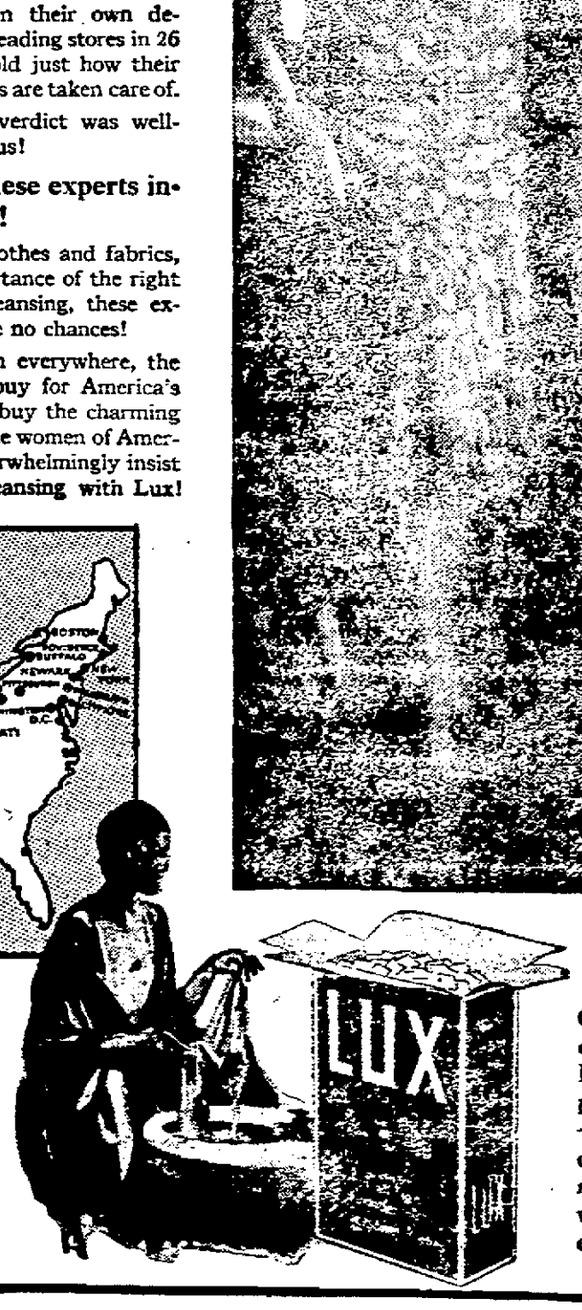

Like women everywhere, the women who buy for America's great stores—buy the charming clothes that the women of America wear—overwhelmingly insist upon safe cleansing with Lux!

ALL OVER THE UNITED STATES, from coast to coast, successful women buyers, heads of their own departments in the big stores of the 26 cities shown above, told frankly how they cared for their own things. For sheer stockings, delicate underthings, sweaters, charming frocks, gloves, 92% of these clothes experts—92 out of every 100 interviewed—insist on Lux!

DEPARTMENT STORES send their women buyers to New York and Paris to select smart clothes. The above picture, an actual scene in a New York showroom, illustrates how buyers select the clothes you see in the stores.

¶ Like the department store buyers, women everywhere trust their nice things to LUX. For women have found, as the great motion picture studios—the New York musical shows—have proved by test, that washing with Lux doubles the life of fabrics! ¶ Pure Lux has none of the harmful alkali found in many soaps, whether flakes, chips or cakes—nothing to weaken delicate fibres, fade nice colors.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press)

The reaction that almost inevitably follows extended winning streaks has struck the Chicago Cubs and kept them from the pace-setting position in the National League's 1928 pennant scramble.

After establishing a seasons record of 12 straight wins, the Cubs lost their third game in a row yesterday, St. Louis taking a 3 to 2 decision at the Mound city.

This defeat for the Cubs, coupled with Cincinnati's 5 to 4 victory over Pittsburgh, put the Reds back into first place.

Just to make the first division unit complete the New York Giants moved into third place, while the Cardinals dropped back to fourth, the intricacies of the percentage system accomplished this despite the fact that both clubs turned in victories.

Roettger's single in the eighth inning gave the Cardinals the run that spelled defeat for the Cubs. Reinhart gave the Chicagoans ten hits but they were judiciously scattered. Hack Wilson hit his third home run in two days and his ninth of the season.

Doubles by Allen and Picinich in the eighth provided the one run the Reds needed to beat the Corsairs at Cincinnati. Remy Kremer was touched for 11 hits by the Reds while Carl Mays held the losers to eight. Lloyd Waner hit a homer with Smith on base in the fourth.

The Giants took advantage of Brooklyn's five errors and won 9 to 5. Vance weakened in the sixth, his support collapsed at the same time and McGraw's men scored five runs.

Brandt allowed but three hits and the Boston Braves repulsed the invading Phillies, 3 to 1. Brandt gave up one hit until the ninth when Southern hit a home run and Sand singled.

In the American League, the New York Yankees went on a batting spree reminiscent of their palmiest days of last year. The champions pounded out 22 hits in scoring a 14 to 4 victory over the Boston Red Sox. In the Yanks' hit collection were Ruth's thirteenth homer of the season; Gehrig's seventh and Meusel's fourth.

The Yanks' 22 hits were good for 28 bases. Stanley Coveleski shut out the Red Sox until the eighth, when Phil Todt hit for the circuit with two men on.

The Philadelphia Athletics traveled 11 innings before they could gain a 7 to 6 verdict over the Washington Senators. Eddie Collin's pinch double in the ninth tied the score and his single in the eleventh scored the winning run. Al Simmons, out of the game since the season started because of an attack of rheumatism, appeared as a pinch hitter in the ninth and scored one run with a triple. Goslin and Sam Jones hit home runs for the Senators.

Jack Ogden was wild and the Detroit Tigers beat the St. Louis Browns, 6 to 3. Ogden forced in two of the four runs the Tigers scored in the first inning. Heilmann accounted for two more in the fifth when he hit for the circuit with Rice on base. The Browns got 13 hits to 7 for the winners.

Mostil scored from second base on a wild pitch by Uhle in the eighth inning to give the Chicago White Sox a 4 to 3 victory over the Cleveland Indians. Mostil tied the world's record for chances accepted by outfielders when he snared 11 flies and made one assist without an error.

BUSHY GRAHAM MEETS IZZY SCHWARTZ TONIGHT

New York, May 23 (AP).—With recognition by the National Boxing Association and the New York State Boxing Commission as bantamweight champion awaiting the winner, Bushy Graham, Utica, N. Y., and Izzy Schwartz, state flyweight titleholder, clash over the 15-round route at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, tonight.

Graham was an odds-on favorite. Much smaller in every way, Schwartz also is handicapped in his quest for a double-title by the fact that under the commission rules he must make his flyweight class limit of 112 pounds. Graham probably will scale close to the 118 pound bantam limit.

HOUSTON CONVENTION LIQUOR SUPPLY SEIZED

Houston, Tex., May 23 (AP).—A large consignment of liquor, said to have been ordered for delivery prior to the Democratic National Convention here, has been confiscated and the crews of two ships have been arrested on charges of possession and transportation of liquor.

The boats, the "Lena Beaumont" and the "Imperator," were seized yesterday when they docked at Seabrook, about 25 miles southeast of here. The raiding parties obtained liquor valued at $75,000, including rum, whiskey, beer and wine.

Lineup of Albany Team

The Albany All-Stars, scheduled to meet the Centrals at the Athletic Field, Thursday at 6 p. m. instead of the Havana Red Sox, who found it impossible to disregard upstate bookings to get here, is last year's D. & H. Generals. Kingston fans know the calibre of this outfit, which has battled and defeated many of New York state's fast semi-pro aggregations.

The reason that the club is traveling under the name of the Albany All-Stars is because the New York Central refused to back the team this year, it is said. The same nine copped the championship of the New York Central League last year and also overcame a crack outfit picked from the best players of the circuit.

Millett, star of the outer garden, and very proficient with the willow, who played with the Ravena team last year, will play against the Centrals with the following lineup:

Hayford, 1b.; McGraw, 2b.; Reckenburg, 3b.; Perrella, s.s.; Winegar, Loebig and Gardner, outfielders; Saunders, c.; Schweiger and Charles, pitchers.

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould,
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

New York, May 23 (AP).—It may not be of startling concern to the average motorist whether or not he has a front or rear wheel drive but this mechanical issue happens to be vital just now to a dozen or two speed kings who will match their dare-devilry and speed in the 500-mile International Sweepstakes at Indianapolis Memorial Day.

The argument between the rival camps is so hot that it likely will culminate in a record-breaking race for the premier long distance honors of American tracks.

Steve Hannegan, who does light and heavy experting in motorboats and heavyweight champions as well as automobiles, admits it. Steve was there when they built the Indianapolis speedway and, as Carl Fisher's energetic agent, he has heard the motors roar ever since. He concentrates on the speed demons only as relaxation between responsibilities as director of public relations for Gene Tunney.

"The Indianapolis race this year will be a great battle between the front and rear wheel drive boys," says Steve. "The betting is more on a basis of which shows up the best than on which will win. The front-wheel drive pilots are betting they ground off the fastest trials and Anne [illegible] the front positions in the in Los [illegible]-line-up but the rear-wheel decree wagering they will be out in court a[illegible]ore the first five-mile lap is Tommy [illegible] weight [illegible]uld not be surprised to see plicati[illegible]mile record knocked off. Frank [illegible]t holds the record for the [illegible]lap, 120.91 miles per hour, [illegible]at, too, may be busted next [illegible]. D[illegible]

[illegible]y or may not turn out to be [illegible]omen, but Cornell, in the row-[illegible]drums since the days of old [illegible]ourtney, has drawn the rab-

Wpot lane—No. 2—for the Varsity Three in the Poughkeepsie Regatta ten[illegible]ear. Legend for years has fa-[illegible]pend the crews drawing this lane. Though it is more a case of super-[illegible]stition than of fact.

Pennsylvania had the No. 2 lane in the varsity race last year and finished so far in the rear that watchers feared the Quakers were lost or sunk. Columbia, the 1927 winner, had the No. 6 lane and this year has drawn No. 7, out near the middle of the Hudson river.

Nevertheless Cornellians may look on the draw as at least a good omen for the time being. The big Red crews, under Jim Wray, are showing signs of a comeback. Poughkeepsie, in the old days, was their main battleground and the Ithacans have their hopes centered there again.

The record entry of 20 crews in the Poughkeepsie classic, June 19, testifies to the intense interest in rowing this year, with the Olympics as an added incentive to bring on the best that the colleges can produce.

The far west is sending five eight-oared outfits to the Hudson, with Washington entered in all three races and California in two, the varsity and freshmen tests. The Navy, for the first time, also is sending entries for all three events.

Just when America begins to get a bit complacent about the skill of her track and field talent some star in Germany bobs up to give the Yankee confidence a jolt.

A season or two ago Ted Meredith's famous world's record for the half mile was considered impregnable but along came Lanky Dr. Otto Peltzer to knock it out of the books.

The tumult over the shot-putting exploits of John Kuck out on the west coast had hardly died down a few weeks ago when the cables carried the news that Karl Hirschfeld had tossed the 16-pound ball a new record distance of 51 feet, 9¼ inches.

Now it is the discus record. America has had to share some of the honors in plate-tossing to the Finns in years past but Hoffmeister of Hanover, Germany, has outdone anything in the record achievements of the two American aces, Houser and Hartranft, with a toss of 159 feet, 4¼ inches.

TISCH NEW NATIONAL GUARD BANTAM CHAMP

Sammy Tisch outpointed Jimmy Doyle, a regimental mate in the 102d Medical Corps, in a 15-round bout at the 22d Engineers' armory, New York city, Tuesday night. The battle was for the National Guard bantamweight title and the possession of the Major General Haskell belt, emblematic of the honor. The clever Tisch piled up a big lead in the early rounds and it was not until after the eleventh stanza that Doyle began to exhibit much ability. Tisch weighed 117, while Doyle went one pound heavier.

In the semi-final, scheduled for six rounds, Tommy Conti, 119, of the 244th Coast Artillery, hammered out a decision over Jimmy Palumbo, same weight, of the 105th Infantry. In two other bouts over the six-round route, Tommy Aboba, 115, of the 102d Medical Regiment, defeated George Hill, 116, of the 212th Anti-aircraft Regiment, and Joe Barry, 135, of the 14th Regiment, outpointed George T. Forbes, 134, of the 369th Infantry.

CLERMONT PLAYERS WILL MEET KOENIG ALL-STARS

Tonight at Hasbrouck Park the Clermonts will cross bats with the newly-organized Koenig All-Stars. The tilt is scheduled for 6:30 and it is hoped the rain god favors the fans with his absence for there is a goodly number waiting to see the game. Jack Dunn, ace of the Clermont pitching staff, will be on the mound for his team with J. Houghtaling on the receiving end. Ed Warrian, well-known hurler of a few years back, will attempt a comeback on the hill for the Koenigs.

Thursday night another twilight game will be played between the Clermonts and the Hercules team of the Industrial League. The former nine will be in the best of shape for the powder makers, who plan a booming attack to take the tilt. Although the management of the Clermonts has not announced a Sunday game, it is likely that the Kingston team will meet the strong Glasco nine on the latter's diamond.

On Memorial Day the Clermonts will do battle with the Rosendale representatives at Hasbrouck Park. The team is now planning to perform in a double-header on that day and the other opposing team will probably be the Blue Sox. The meeting will be the second this year. The hard hitting International team of Newburgh will caper against the Clermonts at Hasbrouck Park, Sunday, June 3. This nine has a good reputation to uphold and the game will likely bring out a full attendance of Kingston fans as well as followers of the team from the Hilly City. The following Sunday will bring together the Clermonts and the New Paltz All-Stars at Hasbrouck diamond. The Clermonts will prepare to be in prime form for this outfit, who walloped the Rondout A. C. recently in order to make a strong bid to put Kingston on the map as conquerors of the All-Stars.

20 Crews Enter Hudson Regatta

New York, May 23 (AP).—A record-breaking list of twenty crews is entered for the three events of the intercollegiate championship regatta at Poughkeepsie, June 19, it was disclosed Tuesday when the draw for positions was announced by Reynolds Benson, secretary of the board of stewards.

The previous record entry of nineteen crews was established in the 1925 regatta and equalled last year. This year's list includes seven varsity, six junior varsity and seven freshman crews representing seven institutions—Washington, California, Navy, Cornell, Columbia, Syracuse and Pennsylvania.

Washington and the Navy have entered crews in all three events for the first time.

The entry list may be increased by the addition of Wisconsin, in the varsity or freshman races, or both, but the Badgers have not yet decided what they will do, Benson said.

The draw for positions, numbered from the west shore out on the Hudson river course, resulted as follows:

Varsity (four miles)—Navy, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Syracuse, Washington, California and Columbia.

Junior Varsity (three miles)—Pennsylvania, Navy, Washington, Columbia Syracuse and Cornell.

Freshman (two miles)—Syracuse, Navy, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Columbia, Washington and California.

In planting when the "top soil" is carefully worked among the fine roots, says the American Tree association, the tree should be three inches lower than it was in its nursery or woodland situation.

OH the bicycle built for two—and oh the clothes they wore as they dashed along (at eight miles per). And he swears that he is doing all the work. And she giggles that she is pedaling harder than he is. And so it goes.

No more tandem bicycles. No more tight-fitting sports clothes. Which leaves only one thing that can be right with this picture—the cigar. Right, of course it's right—it's a Peter Schuyler.

Since 'way back in 1885, Peter Schuylers have been famous for their ALL-Havana filler, a mild blend of Cuba's choicest tobaccos. Forty-three years' experience gives the makers of Peter Schuyler a tremendous advantage over new-comers in the cigar game. Forty-three years—directly responsible for such an outstanding value as Peter Schuyler Perfecto—2 for 25c. Or Victor and Panetela sizes (All-Havana filler also) for only 10c.

Another Big Peter Schuyler Value!

That's Peter Schuyler Brief—10-cent quality in a shorter 5-cent smoke! How come? Because Briefs are rolled from the short pieces of the fine Havana filler purchased for our 10 and 25 cent cigars. Get acquainted with Brief tonight.

Spends 36 Years Paying Off Debts of Brother

Cedar Rapids, Iowa.—Thirty-six years ago, when her brother failed in business and left debts totaling $6,000, Miss Mary Shaw of Maquoketa prayed to live long enough to pay them. She wiped the slate clean a short time ago, and then died at the age of eighty years.

Miss Shaw gave every penny she could afford from her income toward paying off the indebtedness, and never bought a new dress in all those years, her friends say.

Several months ago she was operated on for appendicitis, an operation she withstood without an anesthetic. When told she might not recover, she informed her physician she was ready to go because she had fulfilled her life mission.

Nine Killed in Explosion.

Buenos Aires, May 23 (AP).—Nine persons were killed and forty injured in the explosion of a bomb in the Italian consulate building today.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 23 (AP).—A sweeping recovery in prices took place in today's stock market. With the technical position of the market obviously strengthened by the recent sharp decline, operators for the advance had little difficulty in staging a rally which was stimulated by active short covering. Airplane stocks and several high priced specialties rallied 5 to 12½ points while more moderate gains were recorded by the standard rails and industrials.

Trading was only moderately heavy in volume, with the ticker keeping abreast of the market during the first three hours. So many complaints have been received against the 2 p. m. closing hour that governors of the Exchange are expected to restore the two-hour trading session after the close of the market today.

Revival of bullish sentiment was encouraged, in part, by the more favorable overnight news developments. Sharp advances in Wright and Curtiss presumably were influenced by the announcement that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh had become associated with the newly organized Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., the crossing of the million mark by freight car loadings for the first time this year also was a bullish factor although traffic is still running below the corresponding period last year.

Houston oil scored the largest individual gain by moving up 12½ points to 152⅝. Curtiss climbed 10 points and Wright 9½. Radio was marked up 8 points and Ludlum steel, General Motors, Montgomery-Ward and Consolidated Gas sold 4 to 6 points higher.

Gimbel Brothers ran up 5 points to a new peak at 49½ on reports that new interests had bought into the company. Marlin Rockwell, American Basch Magneto, Pierce Arrow common and American Home Products also moved into new high ground.

Rock Island, Pittsburgh & West Virginia, Atchison, New York Central and Southern Pacific were the leaders in the railroad group.

The closing was strong. The late aggressive purchasing movement showed very general disregard of current monetary conditions, prices of many specialties soaring to new peaks. Houston Oil got up 16 points in all; American International S. and Postum, Montgomery Ward and American Linseed 5 to 6. Old time favorites like American Can, Studebaker, Woolworth, General Electric and International Harvester ruled 3 points or more higher.

Total sales approximated 2,500,000 shares.

Mrs. Knapp in Court—Outline Cases to Jury

Medalie Outlines the People's Case to the Jury Taking Two Hours—Conway Begins for the Defense—Mrs. Knapp Says She Feels All Right.

Courthouse, Albany, N. Y., May 23 (AP).—The second trial of Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, former secretary of state, charged with grand larceny of a 1925 state census pay check, was resumed today after a 24 hour pause caused by the sudden illness of the defendant. At 9:50 Mrs. Knapp appeared in the court room, accompanied by Mrs. MacDonald DeWitt, Mrs. Robert P. Levis and Mrs. Florence Squyer.

Supreme Court Justice Stephen Callaghan, presiding, entered the room at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Knapp's counsel soon joined her. George Z. Medalie, chief prosecutor, entered with his staff. The jurymen had already taken their seats, and the trial was under way.

Mrs. DeWitt and Mrs. Levis sat for ten minutes, immediately before the opening of the court, at the defense table, one on each side of the defendant. They watched her closely. At her first trial, Mrs. Knapp started frequently, watched the jurymen intently, often took notes and conferred with her counsel.

Today she sat quietly, looking straight ahead or out of the courtroom windows across the Hudson river towards the distant Berkshires in Massachusetts. In Bedford, in that state, is "our little home," which Mrs. Knapp described in her first trial.

The money she got from the $2,875.06 check she is accused of misappropriating went largely for furniture for temporary headquarters here during the census and then for the "little home in Bedford", she claimed, with the entire approval of Clara Blanche Knapp, her stepdaughter, to whom the check was payable.

From Bedford today there were present under subpoena by the prosecution, Miss Julia A. Smith, Mrs. Knapp's sister; Charles Hubbell Smith, brother, and his wife, Mrs. Helen B. Smith. At the beginning of the trial, Mr. Medalie also called the name of Mrs. Mary A. Bodkin, another sister living in Bedford, but Mrs. Bodkin did not answer. At the first trial a physician testified that Mrs. Bodkin was ill of heart and nervous trouble and could not be present.

Mr. Dugan made two formal objections at the beginning of the trial, one to a huge chart hanging on the wall outlining payments of census moneys in the name of various relatives of the defendant, the other to "any statements dealing with any other offences than that specifically alleged in the indictment. The chart figured largely in the first trial and was constantly referred to.

Justice Callaghan overruled both objections, holding that the chart and various other alleged transactions were acceptable as bearing on the specific transaction and tending to show a plan of which the alleged transaction was a part. Mr. Dugan took exception at the beginning, he said, in order not to interrupt counsel.

Mr. Medalie then began the opening address of the prosecution, outlining the people's case to the jury.

For two hours Mr. Medalie outlined his case. He concluded with a statement to the jury of his confidence in a return of a verdict of guilty, with the degree of punishment to be left to the court.

After a five minute recess, John J. Conway of Cohoes began the opening for the defense with a statement to the jury that Mrs. Knapp is called upon to answer only one charge and is not required to answer any of the other charges of the prosecution concerning relatives other than Clara Blanche Knapp.

His opening took 23 minutes. Then the court ordered a recess until 2:30.

It was announced by Mrs. Knapp's counsel that she would be examined by a physician during the recess, but it was expected she would be on hand when court reconvened.

"She says she feels all right," said Mr. Conway.

The American Legion boxing show, scheduled to be run under the auspices of the 156th Field Artillery at the armory on June 1, has been postponed until Friday night, June 8.

The reason for the postponement of the bouts is the fact that the armory is to be used in connection with the Benedictine Hospital drive on Friday, June 1.

No Additions To Day Calendar

When supreme court convened this morning at 10 o'clock the day calendar was called and no additions were made. There are apparently several actions ready for trial.

The damage action brought by Fred W. Vail and his son against J. Milo Hepworth and J. A. Hepworth to recover for damage to fruit stored in the Hepworth warehouse at Marlborough was resumed. J. Milo Hepworth was recalled and testified that on the second reception of the Vail fruit at the cooler they had been checked in by Mr. Hepworth or his employes but they had not been handled by them. Mr. Vail and his men handled the fruit and stacked it in the space allotted to them. Mr. Hepworth testified that on one occasion Mr. Vail, Jr., had been at the plant. He had instructed his men to stack the fruit with air space between the stacks and later Mr. Hepworth found Mr. Vail, Jr., asleep in an easy chair in the engine room. He had gone there to call him to answer the phone. The men were stacking fruit at the time. In addition to the apples in the cooler there were some peaches. This fruit was damaged by ammonia leaking from a valve. The peaches were of an inferior quality, according to Hepworth, and had been stored in a room away from the apples.

Several witnesses were called and testified that the Vail apples were received at the plant and stored by Mr. Vail and his men after they had been repacked in cartons. Witnesses also testified that they had apples of a similar kind stored in the cooler the same season and they kept well.

An action brought by Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company against John E. Cleveland, a negligence action, and an action brought by Orren M. Kennedy against H. W. Atkins were dismissed without costs by agreement.

The next case ready for trial is a negligence action brought by Abram Kelder and Marguerite Kelder against H. Duane Clark and Edward R. Cooper. Mahon & Mahon with A. J. Cook of counsel for plaintiffs, and David B. Sugarman for defendants.

MARATHONERS MARCH ON TO MIDDLETOWN

Liberty, N. Y., May 23 (AP).—A comparatively short jaunt of 37 miles to Middletown faced the trans-continental foot racers from Los Angeles for their eighty-first lap today.

With only four more days of running, Andy Payne, Claremore, Okla., youth, still held a lead of more than 15 hours over his nearest rival, John Salo of Passaic, N. J. Salo finished second in yesterday's 59.2 mile lap from Deposit, N. Y., to Liberty, cutting another half hour from Payne's advantage. Salo's time was 10 hours, 57 minutes, 35 seconds, giving him an elapsed time of 564:09:11 for the 3,285.4 miles from the California starting line.

Payne took fourth place yesterday in 11:21:45. His elapsed time was 548:23:36. First honors for the trek from Deposit to Liberty went to the Italian star, Guisto Umek, who covered the distance in 9:47:45, nearly an hour ahead of Salo. Umek holds fifth place.

Frank Von Flue of Kerman, Cal., kept up the fast pace he has been setting for the past few days by finishing third in 10:57:49. This performance lifted him to ninth place.

Salo has little hope of overtaking Payne in the few days left. "Payne is running a heavy race," he said last night. "The time is short and I may have to be satisfied with second money, but I'm putting my all into every lap."

The Oklahoman likewise was confident of retaining his margin over the Passaic Finn. "Salo is cutting into my lead," he said, "but I'm saving myself for the last jog into Madison Square Garden."

The decree was handed down by the court at Guernavaca before which Tommy Burns, former world heavyweight boxing champion, has an application pending.

The Berlenbach-Estridge affair was a [illegible]. After five rounds the contest was stopped by order of Dr. Schiff, club physician, and the decision awarded to the dazed Berlenbach. Estridge began his retreating act, the same tactic used here against Frankie Romero, early in the first round and the fans started hissing. At the end of the stanza Estridge proceeded to a neutral corner. Locked in each other's arms the pair fell to the floor in the third round and up until the seventh the men continued in poor style.

In 1924, Berlenbach and Estridge drew a $60,000 house when they fought in the main event at Madison Square Garden. For putting Estridge away in two rounds Berly got $15,000 while Tuesday's meeting with the negro netted him approximately $1,000.

CONCERT AT SAHLER'S WAS GREATLY ENJOYED

A goodly number of the music lovers of Kingston gathered in the gymnasium at Sahler's Sanitarium on Tuesday evening to listen to a concert given by Mrs. Ralph O. Martin, assisted by Miss Lucinda Merritt.

Mrs. Martin surprised and pleased her audience with the bird-like quality of her lyric soprano voice. She sang with remarkable control, exhibiting much feeling and expression.

Miss Merritt, who is well known as a reader, and who has been the organist of the First Presbyterian Church for the past three years, rendered some well-liked instrumental numbers, her best being "The Music Box." Her rendition of "Biddy's Trials Among the Yankees," was extremely funny and pleased her audience greatly.

Mrs. Martin was accompanied in her work by her husband.

Noted Scientist Had Ulster Home

Dr. Noguchi, Acclaimed One of Ten Greatest Living Japanese, Dies in Africa, a Martyr to Science—Lived at Shandaken Twenty Years.

Dr. Hideyo Noguchi, celebrated Japanese scientist, whose death in Accra, West Africa, on Monday, has been announced by the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, was a summer resident of Ulster county for twenty years, occupying the property opposite the old Jerry S. Whitney Hotel at Shandaken. Two years ago he spent the entire summer in research for the yellow fever germ in milkweed, and during that time, with his automobile and accompanied by his chauffeur, the scientist visited many of the farms of Ulster county, at some of which he was a welcome visitor but at others of which he was received with coldness and disdain. In his research work he was accompanied for a time by Hiram F. Whitney of No. 137 Washington avenue, this city.

Dr. Noguchi was the discoverer of the South American yellow fever germ and died a martyr to science, becoming a victim to the germs he had finally succeeded in isolating. He had been spending some time in Africa where he had completed his work and had expected to sail for New York city on May 19. Details of his last illness are not definite but it is believed that he was seized with a second attack of the devastating fever a few days ago.

Studied His Own Case.

The famous little Japanese scientist was acclaimed a few years ago as one of the ten greatest living Japanese. He first became a victim to the disease last January, and from January 2 to January 9 he lay in the hospital at Accra studying his own case, which was one of the first to come to his own notice. On the fifth day of his illness he had a monkey injected with some of his own infected blood. The monkey died, while Dr. Noguchi attributed his own recovery to the fact that he had been inoculated against the African fever with anti-yellow fever serum before he sailed from New York late last October.

It was thought Dr. Noguchi had recovered, but subsequent letters to friends in New York city showed that the deadly fever germs had not been eradicated from his system entirely. In a letter dated March 28 an dreceived in New York a few weeks ago, he wrote ironically: "Suppose I discovered the cause of this dreaded disease? The irony of it all is that I probably have it."

In previous letters to friends in New York Dr. Noguchi wrote of his isolation of the deadly tropical germ which hitherto had defied science. Experiments carried on by him, he wrote, had shown the micro-organism to be a more deadly member of the Leptospira family, which he had found years ago to be the source of South American yellow fever. "It is not the same as the African fever," he wrote, "but far more fatal." Again he wrote: "I have the organism that causes yellow fever in Africa."

Knew He Had Dread Disease

Inability to obtain monkeys on which to experiment delayed Dr. Noguchi after his arrival on the African West Coast last November, and for three months, he wrote, he was "nearly stranded."

Of his own illness he wrote: "In spite o. every imaginable precaution I was taking, I was caught and had a narrow escape. My case was a very mild one and no one ever suspected I had it but I knew from the beginning what was the matter with me."

When the monkey which he had innoculated with his own infected blood, died of the germs, Dr. Noguchi had an autopsy performed and "found every characteristic organic change known in fatal human cases." A photograph of the monkey was mailed to this country by the scientist.

Dr. Noguchi commented on the death of Prof. Adrian Stokes, noted London pathologist, in West Africa on September 21 last, and said that Dr. Stokes had not been inoculated as he had been, and remarked that the death of Prof. Stokes and his own recovery, if not to be ascribed to the inoculation, was an "odd coincidence."

While in Africa, Dr. Noguchi was aided by two American and fourteen native helpers.

Dr. Noguchi was fifty-one years old. He was born in Japan and came to this country in 1900, becoming an assistant to Dr. Simon Flexner. Four years later he joined the Rockefeller Institute as a member of the original staff. He was the discoverer of a method of obtaining a bacteria-free vaccine for smallpox and of the causative micro-organisms of infantile paralysis, among other numerous contributions to science.

He was extremely fond of Ulster county, particularly the vicinity of Shandaken, where he found relaxation from the intensive work which he was doing during most of the year. He was of slight build, possessed of quick, nervous temperament and was an indefatigable worker. Residents of the town of Shandaken who knew him found him most companionable and were proud to be numbered among his friends.

CONCERT GIVEN AT MANNERCHOR HALL.

The audience which taxed the capacity of Mannerchor Hall to hear the concert given by the Rondout Social Mannerchor, under the direction of Prof. A. Szekely of Pearl street, Monday evening, enjoyed the event very much. Prof. Szekely, master of the violin, piano and organ, proved his ability. Miss Mary Szekely, 11-year-old daughter of the professor, admirably accompanied her father on the piano while he rendered violin solos. The professor, who has resided in Kingston but a short time, has made many friends.

After the program, dancing and refreshments were enjoyed. It was requested that Prof. Szekely repeat the offering in the near future, but he has decided to wait until after the summer months when an entirely different program will be given.
